The Goat Made Drunk and Then Quit Off.

This story of the goat made drunk was related to me by Rev. J. N. Austin a month or so ago and said it occurred about the year 1850 I was seven years old at the time. At a still house some 6 or 10 miles west of Clarksville, Ga., Mr. Austin was present at the time and saw the animal drunk. A party of men was present, and gave the goat whiskey to have some fun out of him. As the goat was quite a pet about the still house, and when intoxicated he cut up all kind of capers. He jumped, and butted, pawed, blated and did many foolish things as people generally do when intoxicated. After he became sober he went to the house of the man who run the still, and after that he could not be induced to go to the still house, but would go down near to a little branch where the troughs that held the still slops for the hogs were located, but would not cross the branch to the distillery, as much as to say I have had enough drunk and am done with that business, and have decided to stay on the other side of the question. What a pity that many people who are overtaken with the drink habit do not go and do likewise, and leave off this practice entirely and save themselves from ruin for time and eternity so may it be.

If the NUGGET will publish this piece in its columns I will write him what a monkey he did in North Carolina, on the liquor question.

A MONKEY ON THE SIDE OF TEMPERANCE.

Some sixty-five years ago it was related a monkey was made drunk in Ashville, N. C., as the story was reported at the time. This occurred at a business house connected with a bar room located upon or near the main street of the city. It seems that the monkey was quite a pet with his owner and domestic as a house dog; and one day followed him to the bar room where a number of persons were taking their drink, who decided to divide their whiskey with the monkey, and see what capers he might cut up. Soon the monkey was fairly intoxicated and cut up many capers, and dived, that perhaps surpassed those of Queen Dido herself. After a time the monkey sobered up and the fun ended. Some days after this the owner brought his monkey again to the bar room expecting to repeat the experiment, but the animal could not be introduced to enter the bar room or to drink intoxicants but when force was used fled to a pair of stair steps that passed up the side of the house near the roof which he escaped to the roof and sat upon the top of it as independent as a wood sawyer, as much as to say I am now free from the whiskey question and belong to Wahingtonian Temperance Society.

"Wine is a mocker, and strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

N. F. HOWARD, M. D.,
Dahlonega, Ga. May, 1902.

A man who was "wanted" in Russia has been photographed in six different position, and the pictures were duly circulated among the policemen. The chief of one of these wrote to headquarters a few days after the issue of the set of portraits, and stated: "Sir, I have duly received the portrait of six miscreants whose capture is desired. I have arrested five of them, and the sixth is under observation, and will be secured shortly."

What to Teach Boys.

A philosopher has said that true education of boys is to "teach them what they ought know when they become men."

1. To be true and to be genuine. No education is worth anything that does not include this. A man had better not know how to read—he had better never learn a letter in the alphabet, and be true, genuine in intention and in action rather than be learned in all sciences and in all languages, to be at the same time false in heart and counterfeit in life. Above all things, teach boys that truth is more than riches, more than earthly power or possessions.

2. To be pure in thought, language, and life—pure in mind and in body.

3. To be unselfish. To care for the feeling and comforts of others. To be generous, noble, and manly. This will include a genuine reverence for the aged and for things sacred.

4. To be self reliant and self-helpful, even from childhood. To be industrious always and self supporting at the earliest proper age. Teach them that all honest work is honorable, that an idle life of dependence on others in disgraceful.

When a body has been learned these four things, when he has made these ideas a part of his being—however poor or however rich—he has learned the most important things he ought to know when he becomes a man.—Barish Visitor.

Negro's Best Friend.

Booker Washington has been fifty styled the Moses of his race, and certainly he has brought great wisdom, tact and devotion to his work, but into the conditions. The conditions are thoroughly understood by him and every other good friend of the colored man. The distinguished Alabama teacher or has the practical wisdom of Benjamin Franklin in recognizing that the first step a race must take in progress is to become industrious and thrifty. To save a part of his income is, as Mr. Carnegie aptly says, the act of a civilized person; to spend it all is the act of the savage. Once the negro can be taught to accumulate property he given hostages to fortune; it is made to his interest to obey the law and to have others obey them. No nation and no race ever struggled up to a higher life without hard work and the process of accumulating property. For this reason Booker Washington does not concern himself with the negroes politics or his religion. He knows that if the black can be taught to work, to live in decent fashion and to desire a decent place in the community his politics and religion will take care of themselves. His work is a rebuke to the demagogues who champion the negro solely because his vote will help them to the office they crave. They have made the franchise a curse to the race, as sensible negroes now realize.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An educated man is a wealthy producer, and uneducated man is merely a day laborer. One has his brains to assist the skill of his hand, and the two together—brain and skill—is a combination which has made nations wealthy and powerful. The laborer has only the power of his muscles, and that limits the product of the work.—S. G. Heiskell.

He is truly a great man who achieves greatness without making a noise while doing it.

Lemons as a Medicine.

Lemon juice, sweetened with loaf or crushed sugar, will relieve a cough.

For feverishness and natural thirst, soften a lemon by rolling on a hard surface, cut off the top, add sugar, and work it down into the lemon with a fork then suck it slowly.

During the warm months a sense of coolness, comfort and invigoration can be produced by a free use of lemonade.

For six large glasses of lemonade use six large, juicy lemons; roll on a hard surface, so that the juice can be easily extracted. Peel and slice, add sufficient sugar to sweeten and stir it well into the juice before adding the water. Hot lemonade will break up a cold if taken at the start. Make it the same as cold lemonade, only use boiling water instead of cold water, and use about one-half as much sugar.

The discomfort caused by sore and tender may be lessened, if not entirely cured, by applying slices of lemon on the feet.

A piece of lemon, on stale bread, moistened with lemon juice, bound on a corn, will cure it. Renew night and morning.

The first application will produce soreness, but if the treatment is persisted in for a reasonable length of time, a cure will be effected.

To cure chilblain, take a piece of lemon, sprinkle fine salt over it and rub the feet well. Repeat if necessary.

Lemon juice will relieve roughness and vegetable stains on the hands. After having the hands in soap and water, rub them with a piece of lemon. That will prevent chapping and make the hands soft and white.—Farmers' Advocate.

When the Senator Was Burned up.

Senator Pettus went overland from Selma, Alabama, to California on horseback more than fifty years ago. Once in a great while in the democratic cloakroom at the capitol in Washington, he tells about his experiences. Senator Bacon pestered him for a story, a correspondent says. The ancient Alabamian did not feel like telling one. Finally he said: "I remember once when the whole outfit was captured by Indians. It was an exciting experience, but I'll have to make the story short, because I have some letters to write. The Indians took us, tied us to trees, built fires around us made out of resinous pine wood that burned like oil, and left us to our fate." "Heavens!" said Senator Bacon, "how did you escape?" "We didn't," said Senator Pettus, as he arose to go; "we were burned to death."

Result of a Foolish Passsion.

Alice Carey Harlow, who was adjudged insane in the Coles county, Ill., court last Friday and sent to Kankakee, is about thirty years of age. She has been in turn a school teacher, house maid and writer of verse. Her morbid love for a young condemned murderer in 1898 is said to have been the beginning of the mental vacuity. She visited him in jail, although she had never known him before, fell in love with him, and after his execution prepared a petition to the legislature asking for the abolition of capital punishment.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 8, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

A colored voter informed us this week that he intended to vote for the democrats in the final election, because they were his friends and when wanting a favor he always got it from democrats.

At the time one of the members of the executive committee of the republican party of this county was appointed he was in Fulton county jail serving out a sentence for blockading but he is out now and ready for official business.

There are several republicans who have voted in the democratic primary. One told us the other day that he intended to do it for there was no chance for any of his or the so called independent democrats getting an office in this county.

All who have voted in the primary must stick to it whether they get their choice or not. We intend to do it from governor on down to coroner, whether friend or foe. There is no use of a primary unless this is done. You who participate are honor bound to do this and we hope there is not a single man but what will stand by it.

Gentlemen, in discussing the political situation of the day we do not mean to make any one mad oppressing us. We are just trying to keep up our end of the line down here on Water and Choice streets and trust that you will hold your temper. We will. And if you spit on one cheek we will turn the other provided you don't use snuff or tobacco.

It's strange what effect a little bottle of liquor will have on a man. Last Saturday as one of the republican executive committee was returning home down the Wimpy mill road telling a friend about his party going to endorse independent, he was met by a democratic candidate who drew his bottle and after taking a couple of drinks he began to talk democratic and said that he was going to vote in the primary.

The great mass of our male citizenship is those who have not the opportunity or the means to attend college or to acquire a complete educational improvement is confined to the common schools, says the Montgomery, (Ala.) Advertiser. And the Ocala, (Fla.) Banner adds this which is alike applicable to all States: If we admit that education makes better and happier citizens, then it is both a duty and a sound policy to make education as nearly universal as possible. The state cannot afford to carry all the children through branches of acquired knowledge, but certainly can give all of them such an education as will fit them for the ordinary duties of intelligent citizenship and enable them to succeed in the fight for success.

Athens Banner: There are 137 counties in the state, divided into three classes. The first class is entitled to six votes in the state convention; the second class is entitled to four votes in the convention. There are six counties of the first class, twenty-six of the second and 105 of the third. The counties of the first class, entitled to six votes each are: Bibb, Chatam, Floyd, Fulton, Richmond and Thomas. These counties have three representatives each in the General Assembly. The counties of the second class, entitled to four votes each are: Bartow, Bulloch, Burke, Carroll, Cobb, Coweta, Decatur, DeKalb, Dooly, Elbert, Emanuel, Gwinnett, Hall, Houston, Jackson, Laurens, Lowndes, Meriwether, Monroe, Muscogee, Sumpter, Tattall, Troup, Walton, Washington and Wilkes. These counties have two representatives each in the General Assembly.

The Public School.

The closing exercises of the graded school of Dahlonega took place in the court house last Saturday morning, which were largely attended by the patrons and friends of the institution. The progress the little ones have made in the past year is very remarkable. Prof. Martin and his assistants have certainly performed their duties well, leaving not a single stone unturned that would advance the children's interest. In order to show the progress made in this school we will give a full and complete report next week, including the parties receiving awards, so as to please and encourage the children in attendance upon this splendid institution, it being too lengthy for this issue.

The following interesting program was carried out in the closing exercises:

- Welcome Song.—By school.
- Dec.—"Mr. Nobody." Hus Anderson.
- Rec.—"Going to Bed." Blanche Brooksher.
- Dec.—"The Song of the Housekeeper." Deck Wallace.
- Rec.—"The Dead Doll." Marion Frye.
- Dec.—"When Paw was a Boy." Ottie Anderson.
- Rec.—"A Laugh in Church." Winnie Colvin.
- "We Sing of Fairy Land." By School.
- Rec.—"Teaching Public School." Vicie Mae Copeland.
- Concert Rec.—"The True Story of Little Boy Blue." Seven little girls.
- Dec.—"The Heathen Chinese." Claud England.
- Reading.—"Entertaining Her Sister's Bean." Frances Stanton.
- Rec.—"When the Cows Come Home." Carry Brooksher.
- Song.—"My Mountain Home." By School.
- Dec.—"Youth." Fred England.
- Rec.—"The usual Way." Mary Johnson.
- Rec.—"The Old School House." Kittie Thomson.
- Rec.—"For His Good." Isabelle Charters.
- Dec.—"If I Live till Sundown." Jeff Findley.
- Rec.—"Platonic Friendship." Pearl Anderson.
- Valdictory Essay.—Subject, "Culture." Miss Bessie Keith.
- Song 6th and 7th grade.—"In Part."
- Awarding Medals, &c.
- Song.—"Good Bye." School.

Atlanta Constitution: Mary Dillard, the white woman who shot and killed Will Felmet in Blue Ridge, Fannin county, Thursday night, May 22, was brought to Atlanta last night for safe keeping. It had been rumored that a mob might be organized for the purpose of lynching the woman if the jury rendered a verdict yesterday of voluntary manslaughter and the woman was at once placed on a train and hurried to Atlanta. The victim of the woman's pistol was a railroad man and he had a large number of friends who were incensed at his being shot down as he was. It was reported that some of these friends had held a secret meeting Tuesday night and decided to take the law in their own hands if the woman was not found guilty of murder. Mary Dillard shot and killed Will Felmet at the door of her home. She claimed he tried to push his way into the house and that he cursed and abused her. Witnesses stated that she shot to keep the man out, but he was not attempting to hurt her. Only one shot was fired and Felmet lived only a few minutes after he fell. Her sentence is ten years.

Now that the democratic primary is over the so called independent democrats can send in their application for office to the republicans so they can pass upon their competency and see whether they are fit to hold one or not provided they have not got men of their own faith and order.

The N. G. A. College Commencement.

The exercises of the N. G. A. College which closed on Wednesday evening, were the most interesting of any held here for years. The attendance was large and all seemed to take a deep interest in them from beginning to ending.

On Saturday night it rained and even up to Sunday morning a dark cloud hovered over our city, looking as if there would be a very damp time for the beginning of the exercises, but long before the hour for services arrived the clouds cleared away and the sun shown brightly and not a drop of rain fell during the entire commencement exercises, giving every body an opportunity to attend.

At 11 o'clock Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. W. F. Quillian, of Gainesville, Ga., and at 8:30 Rev. W. H. McLaughlin, of Atlanta preached the annual sermon to boys. Both divines were greeted with large and attentive audiences and we trust that their excellent sermons will have good effect on the students and all others hearing them.

As usual on Monday night the young ladies entertainment attracted a large crowd, the hall being filled to its utmost capacity, many being unable to even get standing room.

Mr. W. M. Smith, of Atlanta, a former graduate of the college, delivered the Alumni address, and Hon. H. P. Bell, of Cumming, Ga., who is well known to most of our readers, the Junior address. Both gentlemen had a large audience and their able addresses were listened to with great interest.

The entire program was splendid and the speeches, declamations, etc., were good and listened to with much interest, more especially those of the graduating class who appeared on the stage here for the last time. They now go out into the world to commence the duties of life and we all wish them success in any thing they undertake.

At the closing exercises Wednesday night when the parting hand was given it was very affecting. Tears could be seen trickling down the cheeks of many faces, especially those having sweethearts, for the time had come for them to part.

The following persons were awarded medals, to-wit:

- Gurley Prize Essay, Joe H. Byers.
- Mathematics, John Byers.
- Latin, Miss Sallie Gaillard.
- Senior Oration, P. J. Horton.
- Junior Oration, N. W. Grant.
- Target Practice, John Byers.
- 1st Bookkeeping, J. W. Wilcox.
- 2nd Bookkeeping, J. R. Wilcox.
- 1st Sophomore Declaration, C. Edmonson.
- 2nd Sophomore Declaration, R. Henley.
- 1st Freshman Declaration, W. T. Townsend.
- 2nd Freshman Declaration, G. T. Rowe.
- 1st A. Sub-Freshman Declaration, S. Granger.
- 2nd A. Sub-Freshman Declaration, Wilson Drew.
- 1st B. Sub-Freshman Declaration, W. O. Stanton.
- 2nd B. Sub-Freshman Declaration, Miss Mary Huff.

Mr. Lewis Keith is going to move his family to Atlanta in a few days.

That Baptist brother and Methodist sister in Dahlonega should take warning.

J. A. Lance after spending some few months in Kansas, returned this week.

Now trot out your republicans and independents and let's have many so called democrats favor addressing the colored official in Atlanta as "Hon.—Rucker."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 6, 1902.

Our city has presented quite a lively appearance this week.

The colored public school closed here last Saturday also with interesting exercises.

Frank Thomason's little pony threw him last Saturday but fortunately his injuries were slight.

Charlie Jones, who has been attending the Technological school in Atlanta, returned home last Saturday.

We are glad to note that Mrs. R. C. Thomason, after several days of severe sickness, is able to be out of her room again.

A "serenading" party was out the other night till a late hour and instead of having musical instruments carried a jug of liquor.

If you have any job work you wish done bring it along to the Nugget office where it will be turned out promptly, neat and cheap.

Mr. Louis Keith, after an absence of some two months, following the carpenter's business in Alabama, returned to his home in Dahlonega last week.

The dram lover had to pay 80 cents a quart for his liquor here this week. There is always a demand for the article on commencement causing the price to be "out of sight."

The question has often been asked what killed J. F. Moore's horse the other day which he worked to his delivery wagon. Mr. Moore's reply is that it was overworked in delivering his many customers goods.

Our friend Hattie Huff was down on a visit to his native home here this week from Cleveland enjoying good health with the exception of being slightly crippled, caused by a fall while running from a bee while robbing a stand the other night.

John Hatfield who has opened out a restaurant and small store at the old drug store stand, is doing a good business. John is one of our most industrious and hard working citizens, very deserving and the people are ever ready to patronize such a person.

Judge Gaston, of Gainesville, spent Sunday in Dahlonega, being his first visit here for about two years. This is the home of the Judges boyhood days, who has a kind feeling towards the place and its people are always glad to meet him here or abroad.

The Atlanta Sunday Journal has reached us chock full of interesting news from all parts of the world. The first Sunday issue appeared last Sabbath. It is useless to say that it will be a success for its management is in strictly business mens hands who know no such word as fail.

The parties who removed the clapper of the college bell the other night returned it later on in time for it to be used during commencement. This was right. Let the old college bell go unmoled and ring undisturbed for some of those who heard it this week will hear it no more.

The Nugget's subscription list was largely increased again this week and to those giving us such a liberal patronage we extend our thanks. A large number of jobs have been executed in our job department within the past week and each patron was pleased with the work and satisfied with the price.

The commencement is over and all the students have left for their homes. May they reach there in safety and find their relatives all well. They have conducted themselves in such a manner as to have the best wishes of every citizen of Dahlonega and if they continue this way they will be sure to make their marks in the world and cause the people of Georgia to point to them with pride.

Eggs and fry size chickens sell high in Dahlonega this week.

Dr. Castel, of Union county, was among the visitors here this week.

There is but little sickness in Dahlonega. None at all of a serious nature.

Wm. Slayton and family of Dawson county, are on a visit to relatives here.

School teachers should read county school commissioner's notice elsewhere.

We have had but little rain for several weeks and vegetation begins to need it, especially gardens.

The dam across the Chestate river, being built by the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Co., is nearing completion.

Dr. Palmour, the well known dentist of Dougherty, Ga., will be found at the Dahlonega Hotel ready to wait on those having any work to do in his line.

J. H. Carter, president of the Dahlonega Bank, left for his home in Blue Ridge last Tuesday morning, accompanied by his family, after spending some weeks in our city.

There were more people in Dahlonega last Monday than we have seen here at the college commencement for many years. A brass band and the sham battle will attract attention.

Mr. Almand, who attended the Dahlonega college many years ago, was registered at the Hall's Villa this week. His former home is Conyers, Ga., but he is now doing business in Atlanta.

Your attention is called to the ad. of the Bank of Dahlonega to be found elsewhere. Those having any business with an institution of this kind here will find this to be a safe and very convenient one.

Some of the school boys trunks were attached before they left here for little debts that were unpaid. Often their parents supply their sons with ample money and they spend it foolishly instead of settling off their accounts of more importance.

R. C. Wood, after being in this county for some time left last Wednesday for Leroy, Kansas, where he expects to remain a few weeks on business. Mr. Wood is a fine old gentleman, has been here nearly every year for the past fifteen, and we are always glad to have him among us.

If every body, both male and female, would adopt the plan of our friend R. C. Wood, they would certainly have better health. Mr. Wood has ample means to do him his life time but says that he works so as to be healthy. He has tried both idleness and work and finds the latter much better for him. But there are some people who do before they would work.

A certain young lady and gentleman at the college last Monday night created much interest among both young and old. Having on just enough liquor to kill all embarrassment he would place his arm around his lovers neck right there in an audience of several hundred people and hug and kiss till they got to attracting about as much attention as those on the stage. Oh how sweet. It makes us blush to think about it and doubtless had we been an eye witness we would have fainted.

It is reported that little Rose Hollaway and Mr. Wilson, a man having a living wife, left together the other day headed towards Ducktown, Tenn., and a lovelier couple never crossed the Georgia line before. Little Rose has many admirers here who will doubtless shed tears when they read this.

We are told that they were followed as far as the mountain by interested females and a light occurred but Rose came out victorious and went her way rejoicing. Neither has a very pretty appearance and we know of no better place for them to go than to Ducktown where there is so much smoke that they can't see each other.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Catching and Miss Susie Martin of this place to occur on the 25th.

The annual banquet of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity took place at Hall's Villa last Saturday evening and the affair was one of much pleasure.

Now that the commencement and primary are over and the city destitute of any students things will be more quiet and we will feel lonesome for awhile.

Prof. Ansted is going to spend two weeks across the Blue Ridge now that college exercises have ended in fishing, hunting, and having a good time generally.

Miss Viola Whelchel a daughter of our old friend and school mate, Albert Whelchel, of Anniston, Ala., is up on a visit enjoying herself among many friends of her native home.

There is another wedding on the program in Dahlonega which we will announce later on. The engagement is made and the time fixed but they don't want any one to know it.

Last week while Hon. W. H. McAfee was preparing to step off of an electric car in Atlanta he fell and received quite a number of bruises about his face, causing much pain.

We are told of some parties up in Cane Creek who have been guilty of killing wild turkeys lately, even the little ones. This ought to be stopped if it takes a prosecution to do it.

Sid Hatfield who left Dahlonega for Monticello some years ago while a little boy, came up last week on a visit to his relatives and friends. He is now grown and has a family.

Among the former students of the N. G. A. College who were back on a visit to the commencement was our friend and patron, J. W. West. We are always glad to meet any of the old students.

The northern capitalists who visited Dahlonega last week with an eye of making some investments here, seemed very much pleased with the prospects of the mining, railroad and other important matters.

W. M. Fisher, one of the directors of the Consolidated Co., after spending several days here left for home last week. Mr. Fisher still has confidence in the success of the company with the changes that are to take place.

Now that the candidates have run their race it would be a good time for the preachers to convene a meeting especially for their benefit, to see if there is any chance for some of them to get forgiveness for the many falsehoods they have told.

We are still a mind reader and know of some things going on in tip top society which would be of much interest to those liking sensational news. It may continue this way for a while but will come to light "arter bil" and cause trouble in the camps.

Prof. J. M. Martin and all his assistants have been re-elected by the board of the public school here except Miss Susie Martin. This lady is engaged to be married whose position in the school will be filled later on by some one to be suggested by the principal.

Mr. Early and Mr. Wild, the former the machinist and the latter the superintendent of the Cayender's Creek mine paid our office a short visit one day last week. Both these gentlemen have the utmost confidence in this mine being a success and so do we.

The house occupied by Ben Goodlock and Dan Whelchel, colored, was entered on Friday and relieved of nearly every thing they possessed, including two gallons and a half of liquor, forty odd dollars, some clothing and we don't know what else. The building is located in an out of way place across Crane's Hill, giving the thief or thieves a good chance to get in their work.

The candidates and locusts are disappearing in this section at the same time.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn requests us to announce that he will preach at the Ashley school house again on the 5th Sunday.

The farmers are very busy in their crops causing trade to be somewhat dull, giving our merchants a chance to play checkers.

You have been wishing for a white barber in Dahlonega. Now you have two who are running a nice clean shop and ask your patronage.

We are pleased to see in our midst J. E. Meaders and family of Swainsboro, who will remain in the city several weeks visiting relatives and friends.

The Alpharetta brass band is a good one and has been furnishing some splendid music here this week to the large crowds attending the commencement exercises.

W. M. Smith, who entered the state oratorical contest from the N. G. A. College last year was up from Atlanta this week mixing and mingling with his many friends of Dahlonega.

The preacher out at Wahoo church is getting after some of the brothers and sisters and reducing the membership of that church considerably. Right recently six of one family were dropped from the roll.

Our old friend Jeff Whelchel, of Ladrum, Ga., came up this week and took in the commencement exercises. Mr. Whelchel used to go to school here and pays the institution of his boyhood days an annual visit.

The daily mail to Porter Springs commenced last Monday, which will keep us posted about that great summer resort at the foot of the Blue Ridge where so many people visit every year for enjoyment, health and recreation.

Geo. Peck, while on his way to Dahlonega last Monday fell out of his wagon and broke one of his arms. George was not under the influence of any of Querry's anti temperature drops. It was owing to the bad condition of the road.

Our readers will remember that only a few weeks ago we mentioned the old stick and clay chimney to the house where ex-Gov. Joseph Brown used to occupy in this county still standing. We are told that it fell down the following week after such notice was made.

After the first of July the Dahlonega postoffice will drop back to a fourth class office, reducing the postmasters pay some two or three hundred dollars. We hope the boom which we are expecting in the near future will cause a change.

Cadet C. J. Fowler was fined one and cost this week for discharging fire arms within the corporate limits. The boys nearly every commencement shoot their guns to the annoyance of the marshal and citizens just for fun, but when one is caught it ends his part of the fun.

Bro. Bell of the Wiregrass Blade, one of the best weekly papers in Georgia, while here on a visit first of the week, accompanied by his wife, dropped in to see us Monday. The gentleman is a candidate for the legislature with bright prospects of success. He attended college here in 1891 and has a host of friends who are always glad to see him in Dahlonega.

A party recently returning from the chain gang down in Ogeethorpe county, reports the convicts as being treated very badly. They are whipped unmercifully and afraid to tell it. Many times when the committee from the legislature visits the camps, he says, some of their backs are cut all to pieces nearly and when asked how they are treated reply very well. The prisoners know better than to tell he says. The only way for the committee to get the facts is to have these poor unfortunate creatures to expose their bodies.

Mining Notes.

The following article written by Frank Hall in the Denver (Col.) Post of a recent date is sent us by a friend:

"It is stated that one of the richest finds of gold ever made in the state of Georgia occurred during the latter part of April at Dahlonega, by the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Company. Nuggets of pure gold, large enough to be picked out with the hands and in the greatest plenty, were unearthed. This vein of ore is in one of the cuts where hydraulic surface mining is in operation. It is estimated to be worth $4,000 per ton. Naturally enough a good deal of excitement was created by the discovery. In some sense Georgia was the father of Colorado, as the original developments which made it a conspicuous member of the Union family were made by experienced prospectors and miners from that state. Again, it may be said that if, say 500 good Colorado educated miners, backed by half a million or so of Colorado capital, were permitted free entry to the mining fields of Georgia today, in the next five years it would become one of the most productive of our mining states. The ore is there in the greatest abundance, but the natives have neither the knowledge nor the energy requisite to the attainment of that end. It is perfectly natural that the pioneer element of our state should be more than ordinarily interested in whatever good may befall the miners of Georgia."

Now the report of the discovery on Crown Mountain is true, which was mentioned in the Nugget at the time, but the plan suggested by the writer is all imagination with him. We have had some of the Colorado miners at work here in recent years with all the money they wanted at their command. They were brought here by the Consolidated Company and not understanding the formation had large, deep, costly shafts sunk at places destitute of gold—just behind veins which ran in different directions, being farther from the vein at the bottom of the shaft than where it was started, costing thousands of dollars, which had just as well been cast into the fire, discouraging the owners and injuring the country. No discoveries being made only by natives. The natives said at the time that all of this work was at the wrong place and perfectly useless but no attention was paid to them. But now natives are being leased much of the company's property so as to develop it and show up the best paying veins.

Crown Mountain mine continues its profitable work as fast as the inadequate power will admit. The pump is now working nicely and has been for several weeks without any trouble. The new extra gear wheel has been received to be put in should the one in use give way. The water is very low which considerably retards the progress of not only this mine but all others in the county. Both president Warner and vice-president Merriack are here giving the operations their personal attention whenever it is necessary, superintendent W. W. Crissom being present all the time keeping a watchful eye out for the interest of the company.

The Hand mill was closed down last Saturday and will likely remain so until the meeting of the Standard and Consolidated companies, which convenes on the 12th inst., when an effort will be made to consolidate both the companies and work resume on a larger scale than has been for some time. This will likely prove beneficial as enough hands will be employed on the veins of both properties to keep the full 120 stamps of the Consolidated running all the time with the addition of extra power which will have to be added so as to lose no time in the driest of seasons. We trust that all these plans will mature.

The clean up by Jack Townsend down on the Dahlonega property was a good one this week.

Billy Signal is Prentful.

Just before little Billie Signal got on his weekly drunk last week he wrote the following and printed it in his paper:

"For more than twenty-five years the Signal has printed the commencement programs, always turning out the work in the very neatest style and at a reasonable price. This year it was taken away from the Signal—for what reason we cannot say—and given to another paper, without giving the Signal an opportunity to bid for the printing. This was done by a few favorites (a little printing committee) of the other paper, and who care no more about the finance of the college than a goat cares about heaven. To allow this sort of thing many years the college will have no printing fund nor any other kind of fund. If there is any business in giving out contracts to men who can charge their own price, business men are surely all dead. Another instance of this kind: The city council has a committee of two, together with the city marshal, who permit the tax payers' money to be spent in the same style. The city marshal and one of the committee have no use for the Signal (except to borrow it and read its news) and we have less for them, and do not expect any of their favors. We think, however, that the manner in which these printing matters are being conducted, is robbery to our college and to the tax payers of our town. Of course there is not a great deal at stake, neither pro nor con, but there is a business principal involved, and it should be looked after."

The committeemen can speak for themselves, but we say this on our part: The college work was done at the usual price and a better job than was ever printed in the Signal office during its existence and if every one does not say so after comparing the work we will not charge a single cent for it. Now about the city printing. Not long ago the city council got Billie to print some small blank receipts for which he charged $2.00 with no stubs. For complete work like this we only charge $2.25. So if there is any robbing being done Billy is the guilty party, carrying it on for the past 25 years. It don't look like any sane person would write such an article. It might be that he was "figuring" on this piece the other night when after crawling up under his house, and a relative smelling liquor and believing him drunk, commenced coaxing, trying to get him out without success, who then caught him by one leg, gave a pull, but Billie having turned his rear end to the wall, grabbed a root and kept his position. Right then he might have been grief stricken over the loss of this job and acting the part of a spiritualist.

The reason the NUGGET is so well patronized it contains all the news unvarnished, whether it causes a blush or a smile.

When a negro is lynched in the south for outrageous conduct some of the republican congressmen make a move at once for an investigating committee to be appointed. But when a white woman is outraged and maybe murdered by negroes no notice is taken of it whatever.

The NUGGET office had a pleasant call on Wednesday by Prof. Geo. T. Daniel, principal of the high school at Tusnate, in White county. The professor was here for an investigation of the N. G. A. College, with an eye of entering later on so as to prepare himself in higher studies.

As we go to press the democratic primary is in progress, every body seems to be in a good humor and we hope it will end this way. The candidates and their friends are doing all they can to win the victory. There is plenty of liquor being used and a number of persons are getting very juicy. Some being tight for the first time in a number of years.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Awards of Honor and Testimonial of Merit.

First Grade:—Charlie Woodward, First Honor (medal), closely followed by Viola Housley. Books awarded to Viola Housley, as testimonial of merit, Deck Wallace, and perfect attendance. Fannie McGee, merit and perfect attendance. Blanch Brooksher, rapid progress. Homer Tolbert was to have received book as testimonial of merit, but as he has been absent this week without excuse, the book will not be awarded. Special mention 1st grade. Leila Englund has been perfect in attendance with the acceptance of one tardy mark.

Second Grade, 2nd Division.—Ruth Russell receives book as testimonial of merit for rapid progress.

Third Grade.—Montine Hutchins, First Honor (medal), closely followed by Marion Frye. Books awarded as testimonials of merit to Marion Frye, Carrie Huff. Perfect in attendance, Montine Hutchins, Pearl Rice, Cecil Jackson, Otie Anderson, Mattie Harbison, with exception, of one tardy mark.

The Third Honor in the Advance Division of the Second Grade has been a close tie between Birdie Anderson and Mary Stanton, both pupils doing meritorious work, but through providential causes, Mary Stanton not reaching the average in attendance that Birdie Anderson has the first honor is awarded Birdie Anderson. The pupils of this grade have done creditable work, and as testimonials of merit, books have been awarded to Mary Stanton, Paul Brooksher, Alice McGee, Tom Huff, Maud Rickets and Garnet Wheelchel.

In the Fourth Grade there has also been a close contest for the first Honor, between Frances Stanton and Ora McKee. As in the second grade, the issue rested on attendance, and Ora McKee being hindered also by providential causes from making the highest average in attendance, the first honor is awarded Frances Stanton. In awarding the first honor to Frances Stanton, a teacher's highest commendation is bestowed both competitors for their faithful and painstaking work, and their beautiful example in the school room. Deserving special mention in this grade, for regular attendance, never having missed a day, or any part of a day, during the entire scholastic term, is Mittie Thomas. For close application, and creditable classwork, Carrie Brooksher, Willie Wallace, Ward Castleberry, John Witt and Claud Englund deserve special recognition. As testimonial of merit, books have been awarded Ora McKee, Carrie Brooksher, Willie Wallace, Ward Castleberry and Mittie Thomas. Both grades have passed creditable examinations, and are entitled to promotion.

In consequence of illhealth rendering their attention irregular, Claud Englund, and John Witt are not included in these testimonials.

Fifth Grade:—First Honor—shared by Pearl Anderson and Isabelle Charters, comparative standing too close to discriminate justly. They were allowed to choose independently of each other, between the medal and a set of books equal in value to the medal. Pearl chose the books, Isabelle the medal. No greater honor attached to one than the other. Both these girls were perfect in deportment. Pearl perfect in attendance, with exception of one tardy mark; Isabelle was absent but one day. They shared same honor last year. These girls were closely followed by Fannie McGuire, who receives a book as a testimonial of merit, and of perfect attendance. Books awarded as testimonials of merit to:—Nina Wallace, Mary Johnson and Irene Moore.

Sixth Grade:—First Honor (medal) Enla Keith, closely followed by Carl Brooksher, who was handicapped by being irregular in arithmetic. Carl is to receive a book as an award for merit, but the book ordered for him has not yet been received. It will be given him as soon as it arrives.

Solome Davis deserves special mention for general proficiency (except in arithmetic) but she did not make the honor roll average a sufficient number of times to receive a book.

Seventh Grade:—First Honor (medal) Miss Bessie Keith. Was not absent a day. Special mention:—for meritorious work Sallis McDonald, Logan Castleberry, Fred Englund, Sallis McDonald's should have preceded list of those deserving special mention in the seventh grade but was inadvertently omitted in the announcement. Her class work and general standing were especially meritorious.

In the 5th, 6th, and 7th grades only those pupils received books whose names appeared in the monthly roll of honor at least five (5) times. Only those received special mention whose names appeared on the roll of honor 3 times. Other pupils did good work in same branches—in some instances excellent work—but their general average or deportment was not such as to entitle them to more than ordinary credit. To get on honor roll pupil has to be perfect in deportment.

Educate the Girls.

1. In no section of this country have the women been treated justly in education, says Prof. Melver of the North Carolina State Normal school. In some quarters the injustice has been less flagrant than in others.

2. Illiteracy among the women throughout the United States, and especially in the Southern states, is much greater than among men.

3. The most important factor in our civilization is the white girl in the country; she will make the home and fix the ideas of the people, and as mother and primary she will do the most important teaching that is done for the human race; until recently the state; the church and the philanthropists have in the South devoted their attention, so far as endowed institutions are concerned almost exclusively to the education of the white man, the negro man the negro woman.

4. It is suicidal and criminal for the state, the church and society not to see to it that all women have at least equal educational advantage with the advantages enjoyed by men; that 2,000,000 illiterate mothers in the South mean 4,000,000 or more illiterate children for society and the school to contend with in the next generation and that it is sater and cheaper to educate them now than then.

5. If these statements are true, we ought to act at once. Let this be done, not by taking anything from men of the white race or from the negro man and the negro woman, but by increasing from all sources our gifts of every kind to those educational institutions which are training the most important part of our population, so long forgotten, but which must always set the pace of our civilization.

Was He Homeless?

MES. K. C. SMITH.

"Foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay his head."

This scripture is often quoted by persons who glory in their poverty who love to sing, "No foot of land do I possess, no cottage in this wilderness," believing they are in that respect like Him. But may it not mean that the whole world was His home; that Jesus was so emancipated from self, that He claimed for Himself personally no abiding place? His spirit of universal brotherhood embracing all homes, and love of others overwhelming all desires for his own individual self, substituting universal love for personal love. The true religion of universal love knows of no self. Becoming citizens of the grand universe "robs us of a country and a home."

Jesus had many personal friends who always felt honored by His presence under their roof and no doubt had no lack of the objective accessories of home. All external necessities comprising home in a worldly and material sense at His command. But this was not what He sought. His own personal interest was swallowed up in His zeal for the welfare of others. He came not to do His own will but the will of Him that sent Him. In what a heart-breaking tone He exclaimed, "O, Jerusalem! How often would I have gathered you as a hen gathers her brood under her and ye would not!"

A table may be spread with palatable food but the persons to be benefited must be partakers of the same. Not even Jesus Christ would eat food to nourish another. He could provide all that was needful and cry, "Come unto me all ye who hunger and thirst," but he did not compel them to eat, drink and be filled. It was spiritual food He had to give, as well as multiplying the loaves and fishes. It was the water of life that He offered; as well as wine for the wedding feast. And down to the present day are the words still potent: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled."—San Diego Cal.

Wanamaker's Advertising Bill.

John Wanamaker pays over $1,000 a day for advertising his Philadelphia store. He uses a page a day in five newspapers in that city. They are as follows: Press, $60,000; Ledger, $60,000; Times, $50,000; North American, $75,000; Evening Telegraph; $50,000.

Here is one that is being passed around by the newspapers that is applicable to all towns. "There is no reasonable excuse for a man living in a town, if he doesn't like it. If you have no word of commendation to say for your town, its institution or its people, emigrate. You won't stop the course of events by going away, neither will your carping criticism cut any figure if you remain. The church bells will have the same musical ring, the dogs will play just as busily, the fish will bite just as well and the pure air and bright sunshine will have the same health giving properties. Speak a good word for your neighbors if you can, if you can't don't everlastingly enlarge their faults. If you have become thoroughly sour and disgusted and cannot see any good in your town, move away; go 'somewhere where things suit you.'"

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 13, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

It will soon be ex-state school commissioner Glenn.

Mr. Stevens carried Mr. Nesbit's own county for commissioner of agriculture.

Sam Jones promised his county (Bartow) to Mr. Guerry but we see that it is in the Terrell column.

There is no doubt about Hon. Mark Hanna getting the next nomination for president if he wants it.

The people of Lumpkin county stood square up "Private" Estill last week showing the appreciation they have for an old ex-confederate soldier.

A man from Nacoochee Valley caused a good deal of excitement in Gainesville the other day when he appeared on the streets of that city with small pox.

We have one consolation, ye editors choose for governor and state house officers carried Lumpkin county by a handsome majority if they were not all elected.

The republican party of this county is not as strong as it was two years ago. Some have moved away while others disliking to serve on committees with negroes decided to quit the ranch and vote with the democrats.

Now that the primary in over let the defeated candidates stand square up to the rack, fodder or no fodder at the general election and show that they are true democrats by casting their ballots for the entire ticket.

The republicans and independents of this county have no encouragement to seek an office in Lumpkin during the present year. Out of a vote of about 1,200 3,40 of these were cast in the democratic primary last week. Admitting that about 100 republicans voted in this primary, they could be given up and then the democrats would have a big surplus of votes left.

When an election don't go to please certain people they always have some fault to find. Now the excuse with a number is that certain candidates used liquor in the primary. When most of these grumblers supported a republican some years ago in this county who used several hundred dollars worth of liquor during his campaign to gain votes. They never uttered a word about it. It was all right then because it suited them.

If a person here after being supported by the people, gets a little tight, his enemies lie down and roll over and kick up their heels about it. The other day while a U. S. senator was on a drunk in Washington City he went into a house and destroyed about $500 worth of brie-a-brac before the policeman could get him out, and his name was not even published. If you expect to fill offices with strictly temperate people there will be quite a number of vacant ones.

At Murphy's well known prohibitionist was beaten in Pike county for the legislature. And Hardwick of the tenth won the seat occupied by Fleming in Congress. Hon E. C. Tate and all the rest of the Georgia members keep their seats. And all the old state house officers were renominated except school commissioner Glenn who is defeated by Mr. Merritt. Mr. Merritt is said to be a good man and we trust that he will run this office on a different plan to that of Mr. Glenns. Judge Kim was nominated Judge of the superior court of the Northeastern Circuit without opposition. Likewise with Col. Charters for Solicitor general.

THE ELECTION.

The following is the result of the gubernatorial race in LUMPKIN COUNTY:

ESTILL 497.

TERRELL 198.

GUERRY 108.

THE STATE VOTE.

The rest of the voters of Georgia didn't favor Col. Estill like Lumpkin county and each according to the dailies have carried the number of counties given below:

TERRELL 80.

ESTILL 34.

GUERRY 23.

This gives Terrell 196 votes, Estill 88 and Guerry 68. Only 176 votes being necessary to elect.

MR. GLENN,

who opposed the uniformity system of text books only carried 28 counties in the state.

Democratic Meeting.

DAHLONEGA, GA., June 6, 1902. The democratic executive committee of Lumpkin county met pursuant to a call of chairman.

On motion John H. Moore and W. B. Townsend were elected delegates to the gubernatorial convention to nominate candidates for governor. W. A. Charters and H. D. Gurley were appointed delegates to congressional convention to nominate a candidate for governor.

On motion John H. Moore was elected chairman of democratic committee for next two year.

On motion committeemen for the county were appointed as follows:

Auraria, J. A. Hollifield. Cane Creek, Martin Bryan. Crumby, S. D. Grindle. Chestate, W. D. Seabolt. Davis, J. J. Seabolt. Dahlonega, M. G. Head. Frog Town, J. F. Sargent. Hightower, John B. Sargent. Jones Creek, J. B. Swaney. Martin's Ford, John Wacaster. Mill Creek, S. J. Harbin. Nimblerill, M. C. Chester. Porter Springs, J. B. Ricketts. Shoal Creek, J. B. Redmond. Whoo, W. P. Gillispie. Yahoola, J. A. Marr.

On motion a vote of thanks were tendered, retiring chairman and committeemen.

Meeting adjourned.
M. J. WILLIAMS,
Chairman.
J. E. McGEE,
Secretary.

At J. F. Moors:

House paint ready for use, white lead, Linseed oil, paint brushes. Straw hats at reduced prices. Big bargains in low cut shoes. Baby carriages and go-carts. Adjustable window screens. Wire cloth for doors and windows, spring hinges, door springs for screen doors, screen door braces. Bargains in hammocks. Farm Bell 4 A roasted coffee at 10 cents. Half gallon bucket choice table syrup 25 cents. Tangle foot fly paper, wire fly traps, awning pulleys. 2 pound can cherries 10 cents. Fruit jars, fruit jar rubbers. Incandescent electric lamps 10 C. P. 110 V. Mosquito netting. Bargains in clothing.

It seems that there were several backsliders in the Dahlonega Guerry club. Out of a membership of 85 he received only 66.

A Card of Thanks.

To the Voters of Lumpkin Co.: I desire to extend my most sincere thanks to the many voters who gave me their support in the recent election. I feel very grateful to the hearty support which I received.

Very respectfully,
R. M. BRYSON.

Notice to Teachers.

The next general examination of applicants for license to teach in the public schools of the state of Georgia will be held on Saturday, June 24, 1902. Teachers whose license have not yet expired are not required to stand the examination on account of the addition of physiology. Questions on Theory and Practice will be taken from Shaw's School Hygiene. Those desiring to stand said examination in Lumpkin county will meet me at Dahlonega on the above named date.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 13, 1902.

The best rice in the city at Cope-lands.

The tax receiver made his last trip here last Wednesday and be- gins now to make out his books.

Too much coffee is injurious. Drink Postums Cereal. It is bet- ter and more healthful at Cope-lands.

Miss Ethel Hartman, who was up on a visit was called home Tuesday by telephone on account of her aunt's sickness.

Teamsters are now engaged in hauling a large amount of wood to the Consolidated chlorination plant, getting ready for business.

If you wish to keep posted on politics subscribe for the NUGGET. We are going to make it wide awake and full of fun during the campaign.

Summer visitors, come to Dahlonega if you wish to enjoy a cool breeze from the Blue Ridge moun- tains and rest well at night. Board is reasonable and the fare good.

We understand that Charlie Cris- son of Dahlonega got one of his arms broke while wrestling out at the copper mines at Ducktown a few days ago.

Several old country ladies could be seen wending with beaded forms toward Judge Huff's office this week. The bloody conflict during the civil war had caused them to lose their companions and the object of the visit was to pre- pare their applications so as to re- ceive what the state allows them.

S. L. Praters son and his wife from White county came down last week to visit relatives and at- tend the commencement exercises. Also Mrs. P. J. Noark, a sister of Mrs. S. L. Prater who resides in Gainesville. This was Mrs. Noark's first visit here in twenty- two years but she says she will re- turn again on the first train to Dahlonega.

The right kind of an effort on the part of our citizens would cause Dahlonega to be full of sum- mer visitors. People are not coming unless you tell them about the healthy climate, pure refresh- ing atmosphere, beautiful moun- tain scenery and invite them to come. A few dollars spent in the proper manner would accomplish all this.

A countryman walked twelve miles to town last Tuesday to re- turn his taxes. He is not a subscriber to his county paper and did not know when the receiver visited his precinct, thus causing him to lose a day out of the farm and make this long trip when if he had have been a reader of the NUG- GET he could have attended to this matter and not lost more than a couple of hours. This shows that every citizen stands in his own light when he does not take his county paper.

To show that the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Co. is not asleep we clip the following from the Gainesville Eagle of last week: "The street force of the city will at once be combined with a force of hands and an outfit of grading machinery and by the first of next week it is purposed to have the grading of main and green well under way. The man- agement of the car line assures the city that this work will be pushed and the erection of poles and string- ing of wires, now under way by the direction of Mr. J. M. Hulsey from the upper end of the line, will be completed from the Chesta- tee dam into the city by the first of July. The grading to the river has been completed with the excep- tion of some trestling and one or two other short gaps. In sixty days it is confidently expected to begin laying ties and track, and by that time the dynamo will be in reach. In thirty days more the dynamo will be installed at the dam and lights for the city will be available, and only a matter of a short time for completing details."

Bear in mind that the city tax assessors book closes on the 17 inst.

E. S. Copeland has just received a fresh tub of mackerel. Very fine. Try them.

Editor Bell left for his home at Swainsboro, Ga., last Monday after spending a short visit in our pleasant mountain city. Mr. Bell is a candidate for the legislature from his county and we trust that he will gain the vic- tory.

P. J. Horton's appointment to a readership at West Point Military Academy will not interfere with his representing the N. G. A. College in the next state oratorical contest in Atlanta according to the plans fixed before he left this in- stitution.

There is no necessity of your sending away from Dahlonega to have your job work done any more. We are prepared to get it up in style now as neat and cheap as it can be done elsewhere. We solicit your patronage and propose to give satisfaction.

Some one entered Mr. Loveless' house while all were away Mon- day only a short distant and de- voured all the cooked victuals and carried off two dollars in money belonging to one of his little boys, causing a new meal to have to be prepared before any dinner could be eaten.

Harve Anderson closed out his barber shop here last Monday and left for the Pickens county marble works together with several others of his color. Those who live and do business near where this bar- ber shop was located are proud of its closing up for it was the great- est place for loafers in town and had gotten to be a nuisance.

We are informed that merchant McKee anticipates moving back to his old home place in Dawson county at McKee, Ga., where he did business before he came to Dahlonega. Mr. McKee has many warm friends here who regret to see him leave, and among them is yo editor, for he is an upright, straight forward gentleman who abides by the old time golden rule — do unto others as he wishes to be done by.

Mr. Merriek and his wife and daughter, after being in Dahlonega for some time, left for their home in the north last Monday. They came here from Florida, expecting to spend only a short time but be- ing so well pleased with the cli- mate decided to remain until this week. Mr. Merriek has been elected vice president of the Crown Mountain Co. since arriving in our city, which will likely cause him to visit us more frequent. We hope so at least.

Since commencement the Phi Mu boys have honored the young ladies recently graduating at the N. G. A. College by presenting them each with a gold badge. This would have occurred on the last night of commencement but all were not present at the time. These young ladies have always rendered the Phi Mu society every assistance possible and the presen- tation of these badges show that their favors were not forgotten but on the other hand very highly ap- preciated.

The street tax in Dahlonega is $3.00 per year for each male per- son of road age and the side walks, and roads within the corporate limits are kept in pretty fair con- dition, the latter being in much better shape than the roads outside where the law requires each road hand to work nine days on them every year. But you all know how it is. It is never car- ried out. We heard a man say the other day that he would keep up all the roads beyond the corporate limits in the district for $3.00 from each hand for the first year and cheaper the next. If such a contract as this was entered into we would see a big improvement made on the public highways in less than twelve months and some- thing else could be talked about during court week by the grand juries besides roads.

The hail storm in the lower part of the county last Saturday did considerable damage to the grow- ing crops, especially cotton.

J. F. Castleberry left last week to take charge of a hotel at Clarkes- ville, Ga. His son Paul is holding the fort at the Dahlonega Hotel here.

J. H. Bell, well known to all our old citizens, who left here for Texas 32 years ago, is back on a visit for the first time since he departed.

Rev. W. D. DeWeese, pastor of the Baptist church at this place, tendered his resignation last Sun- day to take effect on the first of September.

A young man's candy bill at one store was $80 when he went to set- tle the other day. Oh how sweet. No wonder the girls cried when he left Dahlonega.

Now that some of the negroes have got to entering houses and stealing they should be watched and filled full of lead when enter- ing a persons premises for the purpose of stealing.

Lieut. S. A. Harris, a former college boy at Dahlonega, who is now in the U. S. Army, of the battalion of the 14th Infantry, leaves Fort Snelling, on the 15th for Fort Wayne, Mich., where Lieutenant Fred Price is located.

Profs. Anstead and Steed left on their fishing and hunting tour across the Blue Ridge last Monday. They expect to stay two weeks and the amount of enjoyment they will have can't even be guessed at, saying nothing of the benefit the outing will be to them.

It was reported here some time ago that W. H. Cook, who left this county a few years ago for the west was dead. We guess it is a mistake for we got a letter from him the other day with a dol- lar in it for the NUGGET, saying that he was lonesome without it.

Monday night the serenaders were out. From their actions the most of them had been using an instrument in the shape of a mandoline except it has no flat side, having a handle, causing both vocal and instrumental music to sound more like a lot of cats fight- ing and quarreling while running down a long flight of stairs.

Rattle snakes and pilots seem to be plentiful up about the moun- tains. One man has already killed eleven on his farm this year. And the other day a little child of Will Marlow went to pick up a pilot while it was coiled, being too small to know what it was, and was seen by its little brothers and sisters just in time to save it from being bitten.

If commencements came here oftener than once a year some peo- ple would certainly suffer. Every- year to prepare for them they spend all the money they can rake and scrape, some going in debt, for rigging to wear during the week. Learn to use economy like yo editor. We only purchased a pair of socks and are as popular among the ladies as ever.

Quite a number of negroes from Dahlonega went up to Cleveland last Sunday to attend services. There was no fighting this time but a good deal of drinking as usual. Several from this place carried razors and left prepared. This was evidence sufficient to show that they went to serve the devil instead of the Lord. People who mean to serve the Lord don't carry razors and liquor in their pockets.

Down near New Bridge the other night a gentleman heard some body in his crib, causing him to procure his gun and go out. There he found a stranger who said that he was a preacher by the name of Smith residing at Dahlonega and becoming tired of traveling decided to go into the crib and rest awhile. He was marched into the house at the point of the gun where he was given a bed and next morning left out and that was the last time he has been heard of. We know of no preacher named Smith living here now. Corn cribs are bad places for preachers to lodge in.

The pension blanks for widows have been received by Judge Huff. Geo. Marlow carried several of the boys over to Ducktown last week who wished to help mine for copper.

Willie Reese, who is now located in Atlanta, came up last week and spent several days with his rela- tives and friends.

Mrs. Marion Moose, after spend- ing some days here with her par- ents and other relatives left for her home last Monday.

Rev. L. A. Simpson, of Gaines- ville, will preach at the Presby- terian church to night (Thursday). Everybody invited to attend.

Several more northern capital- ists have been here during the past week looking over the mining field and investigating other interests.

Mr. McCleskey, who has been living here some time, left for his old home in Cobb county last week, who will likely return again in the fall.

There are a few college boys here who expect to stand the teach- ers examination so they can take charge of some of the public schools.

The first rain of any consequence we have had here for a number of weeks fell last Saturday afternoon, causing vegetation to look up and farmers and gardeners to smile.

Ross Thomas, of Alabama, paid Dahlonega a visit last week. This is Mr. Thomas native town and he always takes pleasure in coming back and looking over the old play ground of his childhood days.

When possible send in a longer subscription than for three months. The trouble of entering a name on book and setting up the type for the mailer is just the same as if it was for six or twelve months.

After the primary was over last week Hon. G. D. Bruce, feeding hurt at some reports that had been made against him during the cam- paign, said and did things which were a violation of the town ordi- nance, causing him to be required to pay a fine of $5.00 and cost.

The primary passed off very quietly and without a single fight in town. When any of the boys got too full the marshal would lock them up and keep them con- fined until their senses were re- stored. And on account of it be- ing election day none were charged anything except Piercan Edmon- son, who set the bed clothing a fire. For this he was required to pay $10 and cost.

The person writing about the manners of the people in the mountains in the Atlanta Jour- nal may think that he is doing great things. He says that the mountaineer is indolent; won't work if he can find anything else to do, and many other insulting remarks. We will bet a war pen- sion that this writer is too lazy to kill a snake and so trifling and worthless that he hasn't got the second shirt to his back.

John Henry, of Louisville, Ky., spent a day or so in Dahlonega last week. It was his first visit to Georgia and very natural for the gentleman to make a close inspec- tion, especially of the mining inter- ests as he has a process by which he saves fine gold and was on his way to North Carolina to introduce it. Being so well pleased with the outlook here Mr. Henry expects to return soon and spend some time in Dahlonega.

We learn that John Hawk was shot by Juan Gurley at Gaddis- town on the day of the election. Whether the wound is of a serious nature we are not able to learn. This is the same Gurley whose father passed through Dahlonega some years ago on his return with the fly tied by one leg, driving him like an ox. The father seated on a horse and his son taking it a foot. Gurley has become a perfect terror to the people of his section. There are several warrants against him. He sleeps in the woods, al- ways carries his Winchester and does arrest. He is also a deserter from the U. S. army.

In some parts of the county but little rain has fallen and the crops are suffering some.

"Choc" Thomas leaves with his brother J. R. Thomas, for Birm- ingham, Ala., to-day.

Mrs. Columbus Worley, who was born and raised in Dahlonega, died at Carrollton last Sunday.

Mrs. Nathan Cochran, well known to many of the people of Dahlonega, died in Gaddistown last Saturday.

It's so dry and the water is so low that the the Consolidated Co. can't run twenty stamps of its mill continuously.

Judge W. W. Murray, presi- dent of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railroad is here for a day or two on business.

Watch your dates and renew your subscriptions before the time expires. Then you will be sure to miss no copies of the NUGGET.

One of our merchants was not- iced sitting at his store the other night without any lights, only making one when a customer came. This is economy.

Over in Wahoo on the day of the election Tom Sullins struck Mrs. Dick Gibbs and her husband com- plied with his marriage vow by knocking Sullins down with a chair.

Since the commencement and election our town presents a very dull appearance. It is a busy sea- son with the farmers and none come to town unless they are com- pelled to.

The streams are very low. In many places nearer the mountains you can cross the streams by step- ping on the rock. It has been un- usually dry for the season which is being greatly felt by the miners.

Mr. Hubbard, whose time ex- pires with the Consolidated Co., on the 15th anticipates leaving for his old home in about thirty days. He is a splendid electrician and has performed his duties well since be- ing in our midst.

A "full grown" sensation came near developing here last week. Several prominent parties being concerned caused the old women to talk more about it until a change in the program caused it to die out step by step for awhile.

Capt. C. C. Cusick took his de- parture last week who expects to visit the Niagra Falls and other places of note. The Captain has treated the cadets nicely since be- ing in charge of the military de- partment here and they all love and respect him.

If those living in a hot, sul- try climate wish a pleasant place to spend the summer where there is a nice cool breeze through the entire season, let them come to Dahlonega. Board can be procur- ed at reasonable figures either at the hotels or private houses.

Not being able to see all the parties that were nominated for county officers here last week we place the full ticket in the paper as nominated. But if they wish their names to continue they must send in at once the remainder of the announcement fee, otherwise, those not responding will not see their names in it any more.

The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College seems to be the most important one ever held, having conyoned several times since commencement, some of them making speeches that could be heard all over town. The business of the meeting has not ended yet but so far president Stewart and all the professors have been re-elected except Prof. Colvin, whose department has been consolidated with that of Prof. Vickerys and he will hereafter look after both the Greek and Latin departments. Two more chairs have been established—a tutor and practical agriculture. So far these chairs have not been filled. Our notion is that the establishment of the chair of practical agriculture will be of more importance and benefit to the college than anything that could have been done.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Maxwell and others are pre- paring to start the Lockhart.

May being so dry it greatly re- duced the water power and very much effected the mining opera- tions throughout this entire sec- tion.

Messrs. Loveless and Crisson are preparing to work a gold mine near the long tube. They will soon have the water on and ready for business.

The Cavender's Creek Mining Co. still keeps the ball of industry moving on its end of the line in the upper part of the county, while the mines in the vicinity of Auraria are doing likewise.

A party of men are making an effort to strike the Boloy Field's vein under the direction of uncle Wash Adams who worked in 1859 when twenty-seven hundred pen- nyweights of gold were blasted out at one time and a streak of gold showed in the vein for ten feet in length. We hope that they will succeed in their efforts.

The Standard and Consolidated Co.'s were to have held a meeting in the north to-day for the purpose of consolidating the two companies under the charter and name of the Dahlonega Consoli- dated Gold Mining Company, and the capital stock increased to $10,000,000 and that the Consoli- dated Co. be conducted by one board of directors and manage- ment.

The little additional stamps to the Crown Mountain mill were put in motion last week and all that is needed is plenty of power to operate the mill on full time. We had some rain here last week but none fell up at the power plant rendering them unable to do much, and it looks like work will have to suspend soon at the mill till it rains. Building the dam at the Gorge and securing the nec- essary power from this point is talked of to take place at an early day. The first general clean up is being made now.

Mr. Maxwell, under a lease is now engaged down at the Ivey, cleaning out the cut and prepar- ing to work the rich chute discov- ered by F. V. Moose some years ago while the property belonged to Capt. Hall. After Mr. Moose and one or two hands look out about thirteen hundred penny- weights of gold in two months his leased expired and no other could be secured until Mr. Maxwell suc- ceeded. Mr. Maxwell's views seem to be good on mining and we ex- pect to hear of splendid results as the ore being taken out is per- fectly speckled with the yellow metal.

We were shown by Mr. Whar- ton Anderson last Monday the clean up for the month of May down at the Calhoun mine which weighed three pounds of pure gold and was certainly a beauty. After having the pleasure of hand- ling this big lump of gold all nicely burnt off we felt for a while that we would certainly take the gold fever. Mr. Anderson has been steadily placer mining at the Calhoun for a long time, making it pay by using the proper econ- omy, which many other miners could do by adopting such a meth- od. He runs it with eight la- borers, showing that there are no idle hands about.

At the Standard the little mill has been running for several days on some ore heretofore taken out on the property. Some ore is being taken out at the North strati- fied and at the Campbell vein. The last ore taken from the latter by T. M. Ray made an average of five dollars per ton, but too much waste is being saved at it now to pay much over a dollar, so we are informed. Such management as this is what injures the mining in- dustry here very often. There is no use of saving and milling that which will not pay. It decreases the value of the good, discourages the owner and gives the mine a black eye. Having men who un- derstands how to separate the good from the bad ore has a heap to do with the success in mining.

TO SUMMER VISITORS.

ALL who are in search of health and recreation are cordially invited to come to Dahlonega. With an altitude of 2,237 feet makes it one of the most healthy and delightful places in the south. So if you wish to enjoy a pure fresh mountain breeze and be comfortable during the summer months come. Good board can be obtained at private houses for $15 per month, and at hotels from $20 to $25. Stage fare from Gainesville, 25 miles, $1.50.

The Uncertainty of Life.

The civilized world is startled by the news of a terrible volcanic eruption on the Island of Martinique in the French West Indies, which resulted in the destruction of St. Pierre and a loss of lives estimated at forty thousand souls.

When the Galveston disaster occurred the sympathy of the world was extended to the stricken community on the Gulf coast, but the fate of St. Pierre, infinitely more terrible, can scarcely be conceived. At no time in history since a torrent of lava from old Vesuvius buried the twin cities at its base, has such a destructive upheaval taken place. Nothing is so uncertain as existence itself.

The farmer plants his crops with reasonable assurance of a harvest and the cattleman permits his stock to roam at large over the prairies, knowing that ample forage will insure it against starvation. But whether the hand that guides the plow will survive to reap the fruits of his industry, or the ranch owner will be on hand at the final round up, no gift of prophecy can foretell. "In the midst of life we are in death," is a truism which has gained in force with time.—Texas Stock Journal.

The Laboring Man.

We have no respect for anything wearing pantaloons that means by word or action that it thinks itself better than any honest laboring man. It won't hurt you to grasp the hard, flinty hand of the man in the blue checked cotton "jumper." He puts on the article of armor to fight for bread, for the wife and babies, and not for the fun of the thing. He may not have as fat a job as you, but he does not kick about it or think the less of you. He may have a spot of railroad grease or shop oil on his Sunday breeches instead of his hair, but that does not prevent him from going to church with his wife and enjoying the sermon.

And don't you know that if bad luck befall you, and you should be compelled to ask for a morsel of bread, that you would not be turned away from the humble cottage of the laboring man half so quickly as you would be hustled from the back gate of the millionaire? Then, why make a consummate dunc of yourself by turning up your 25-cent nose at a poor man, and grinning like a country boy at a minstrel show whenever a rich man approaches you? Every honest, honorable man, rich or poor, is equal to courtesy from every other decent man, but of course you need not expect it from those who do not know the definition of decency.—Campton Enterprise.

A Mississippi family moved to Oklahoma, carrying a dog. The other day the dog came back to Mississippi, lean and lank, having walked over 500 miles. Even a dog won't live in such a country.

Measures Before the Next Legislature.

One of the subjects that should engage the attention of our legislative candidates is a study of the public school system of the state. Whatever objections may be raised to the system, it is here to stay and it becomes us as citizens to turn its presence to the best use. The overwhelming defeat of the present incumbent in the State School Commissioner's office surely indicates that the people demand great changes in the present law or in its administration, or both. Some of the changes needed are:

1. State uniformity of textbooks; (2) The making of the school district the unit for the distribution of the public school funds; (3) The appointment by the State School Commissioner of a state board of examiners whose duty it shall be to examine all teachers of the state, and thus subject all teachers to the same kind of grading; (4) The election of County School Commissioner by a direct vote of the people. (5) The arrangement of some method by which the state will be able to meet its obligations to teachers at the end of each scholastic month.—Cobb County Courier.

Money Passing Through Mails

In his statement before the committee of the United States treasury and postoffice department Mr. C. W. Post, inventor of the Post check system, furnished some interesting figures.

Mr. Post said that from statistics secured by writing to many of the large catalogue houses, publishers and manufacturers who do a large mail order business he has been able to compute the amount of money transmitted through the mail in small sums and finds that $2,000,000 pass through the mail annually. It was urged that the government will receive a greater revenue from the stamps canceled on bills than it now derives from money orders and that the new system will be much more convenient for all persons who remit and receive money in small sums through the mail.

Class Discrimination.

The newspaper publisher is the only man in the state of New York whom the law does not consider innocent until he has been proved guilty. He is always confronted by the presumption of malice whenever any one chooses to sue him for libel. Efforts have been made at various times to remove this disability, but the lawyers in the legislature are opposed to any change which would deprive them of a profitable part of their business. The Republican Editorial association is going to try again. We wish it luck.—Buffalo Express.

A cigarette is a little roll of paper, tobacco and drugs with a little bit of fire on the front and a great big foot on the rear. It is never known to precede any but a fool.—Ex.

Supt. Sanford Will Assist Commissioner Merritt.

It has been announced that Prof. S. V. Sanford will be assistant to State School Commissioner eliot Merritt. This is a guaranty that the affairs of that office will be well and carefully administered. Prof. Sanford is thoroughly qualified for the position, takes the keenest interest in educational matters, and keeps abreast of the times along all lines of improvement. Without disparagement to the present incumbent, we shall look for marked improvement to result from a change in the office, are not a little of it will come from Prof. Sanford's presence in the State's educational system.

We regret exceedingly to lose Sanford from the head of our city schools, but feel that our loss is the state's gain.—Cobb County Courier.

Army Reduction.

Those persons who always see a shadowy menace to the liberties of the people in a large standing army, will, no doubt be glad to learn of President Roosevelt's resolution to reduce the ranks to a peace-footing, as the authorizing the increase in the number of troops constituting "the line," contemplated that he should do, whenever in his judgement the proper time should arrive. By reducing the total of each company of infantry, troop of cavalry and battery of artillery, the whole force will be considerably diminished a large saving in expenses accomplished, and yet the organization will be kept intact and ready at a moment's notice to be filled up again to their maximum enlistment.

That such filling up is possible, even in ordinary times, without the enthusiasm of actual war, is amply proven by the latest returns from the recruiting offices, which, despite report to the contrary, show that there is always good material to be had for the ranks, the enlistment in April amounting to 3,424.—Augusta Chronicle.

The following is the unique fare-well to Dakota of a Kentucky man who had decided to return to the blue grass country: "Four miles from a neighbor; sixteen miles from a postoffice; twenty-five miles from a railroad; fourteen miles from a school house; forty-one from a church; one hundred and eighty miles from a democrat; half a mile from water; a quarter of a mile from hell and the same distance from a republican. 'God bless our home.' Gone to Kentucky, which is God's country, to get a fresh start.

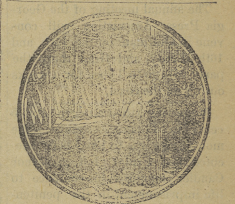

When a farmer buys a thing he can produce at home he is out just the price of the article. The first duty of the farmer is to produce everything he needs as far as possible; then he is well able to buy the things he wants and cannot produce on the farm.—Marietta Journal.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 20, 1902.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.
Official Organ of both City and County.

Gov. Candler has to borrow $150,000 to meet a deficiency in the treasury.

When money is tight it is locked up. It is sometimes the same way with some of our citizens.

Some things never grow old; the most noticeable of which are young ladies who are not married.

The Constitution gives an account of a wedding occurring on a moving train near Whitnair the other day on the Seaboard Air-line. Next.

It is believed now that Judge Hines will be nominated for governor by the populists of Georgia. He may be nominated but then the curtain falls.

A steel famine now confronts the country on account of the demand being far in excess of the supply, and buildings in large cities are seriously impeded.

Alexander City, Ala., a place of 1,500 people was wiped away by the flames last Friday. Banks, hotels, churches, factories, residences and everything went up in flames.

The annual meeting of the Georgia Press Association will convene in Quitman on the 15th and 16th of July, and from there the party will go to Tybee for a weeks outing on the coast.

Moge who killed a negro for 5 cents in Emanuel county some months ago was to have been executed last Friday but governor Candler commuted his sentence to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

In the recent primary in Union county Hon. C. J. Wellborn, Jr., carried 11 districts out of the 14, which shows how popular he is and how well pleased the people of Union are with his acts in the legislature.

On last Friday night a tornado visited Blooming, Ill., and shivered a building in which a dance was going on into splinters. It was about one hundred yards wide and did damage amounting to over $1,000,000.

Funny it is that so many who had announced their candidates for speaker of the House of Representatives should have been defeated in the primary. They can sympathize with the girl who counted her chickens before they hatched.—Oglethorpe Echo.

Before you make up your mind to vote against a candidate because he takes a drink and occasionally gets tight, study for a moment and see if you or some of your near kindfolks have not been guilty of it. Then it will be time enough to throw your stones.

In the last general election two years ago there were 1023 votes cast. Then the republicans were much stronger than they are today, independents included. And 840 votes were polled during the recent primary, which gives those opposing it very little encouragement, if any.

We heard a gentleman remark last Saturday that he was going to vote for every candidate elected by the primary, although some of them didn't speak to him. This is the way for a man to show his true manhood and not hunt up some little thing for an excuse because he didn't get his first choice.

Kansas wants 10,000 farm hands. They are needed within ten days, and besides, the state is asking for 3,000 or more teams. The wheat crop of Kansas will be from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 bushels, and there are not enough men in the state to care for it. There is work for three weeks on the harvesting, and from 90 to 90 days in the threshing.

The Independents.

There is talk of a so called independent democrat being put out by the republicans of this county to run for the legislature, hoping with their force and the dissatisfied element that there will be a chance to break the democratic ranks. But it will all be in vain, for an independent stands no more chance in the county now than a blind dog in a meat house. For the sake of an argument please tell us what an independent member could do in the Georgia legislature. He could neither associate nor the few republicans and the democrats wouldn't have him, therefore he would be perfectly useless. He could not attend the democratic caucuses and no attention would be paid to him whatever except to give him his salary. If the people of Lumpkin wanted anything done in the legislature it would have to pass through the hands of some other representative. Then there would be a poor showing for its members would say that Lumpkin county should not have sent such a man and didn't deserve anything. And besides this, where is the person with any manhood or pride for his county that would be willing to desert the democratic ranks just for the sake of an office and undergo all the mortification that is certainly in store for independent? Echo answers none.

The celebrated Amos Owen cherry tree swindle case, in North Carolina which will be remembered by some of the citizens of Dahlonega ended in the federal court of that state last week. A verdict of guilty was returned against Dr. Frank Bright and Roy. C. D. Wilkie. It is estimated that each party made from $6,000 to $18,000 clear money, mostly women were the victims.

From what we understand it is very mortifying to a certain person in Dahlonega because one of the candidates got a little tight after the primary and was fined a small sum. And at the same time this mortified man picks up his jug and runs out to the woods every time he learns of a blockader coming. And besides this it is said that he is paying his respects to a married woman other than his wife. People who live in glass houses should not cast stones.

The Jackson County Herald has this to say of our neighbor Col. Underwood. The writer served in the legislature with him and knows whereof he speaks: Hon. J. W. H. Underwood of White county, and his brother, Dr. T. G. Underwood, of Banks county, were both in Jefferson Monday, and paid our sanetum a visit. Hon. J. W. H. Underwood is the present representative from White, and a good one he is, too, and will be chosen to represent that county again in the next general assembly. Dr. Underwood is one of the leading physicians of Banks county, and is an aspirant for legislative honors in Banks. He would make Banks a splendid representative.

One of the noblest acts in connection with the war is the erection of a monument to the Southern soldiers in Columbus, O., by Col. William H. Kanauss, Ex-Federal soldier. There are buried in Camp Chase in that city 2,260 Confederate soldiers, and Col. Kanauss has for several years past at his own expense decorated these graves with flowers every year. Col. Kanauss was a brave soldier and fought gallantly against the South but when Apomattox was reached he forgot the past and thereforth there was no more war upon the South by him. And now to show his further regard for the bravery and chivalry of the Southern soldier, he has erected this monument. It is a noble tribute from a generous and brave man and the South will not forget the act.—Columbus Enquirer Sun.

Mining Notes.

The Georgia Dredging Co. has purchased the John D. Palmour farm. $85,000 was the price.

The president of the Cavender's Creek G. M. Co., together with five other members are now out at the mine.

Rev. Johnson and Henry Roberts are putting in a lift down at the Gordon to work the bed of Cane Creek, where they expect to make big money.

Some of the merchants and the banker inform us that they are buying a good deal more gold since the natives have been given leases on various mining properties.

For several days everything has been on a standstill down at the Hand while some leaks are being stopped in the long tube. This work will be completed and the water turned on again this week.

The Hager boat down at New Bridge in the Chetastee river is moving right along profitably gathering the gold from this noted stream, which is due to the practical knowledge this gentleman possesses of mining. The boat is paying and paying well.

The dry weather doesn't interfere with the progress of Mr. Breymann's dredge boat as bad as other operations. It runs continuously under the supervision of W. C. Kennan, who has been in charge of the boat for many years always making it profitable to its owner. The clean up last Monday was splendid as usual. And the nice nuggets weighing about five pennyweights were certainly beauties.

As stated last week a meeting was held in Toledo for the purpose of discussing a proposition made by the Consolidated to the Standard to consolidate the two companies having mining interests in this county but the latter refused and things are in the same shape they were before the meeting. The Consolidated Co. having failed to elect a general superintendent, waiting to see if the Standard would accept its proposition, will now have to do this. Who it will be we do not know, but trust that it will be some wide awake good common sense miner with a whole lot of wise judgement. If this is done the company will make money. Otherwise it won't.

The Crown Mountain plant was forced to close down last Saturday on account of the drouth. The water being so low that not enough power could be obtained to run the mill on half time. They would run it an hour and then be compelled to shut down for about an hour and a half, making it more expensive than profitable, and it was decided to be best to close out until it rains sufficiently for the plant to be run regularly. These are facts and no one should become alarmed, for the Crown Mountain is one of the best mines in this whole country, which has been clearly demonstrated by the clean ups already made. Much dead work had to be done which is practically over now and the mine is in splendid shape to produce big money. Notwithstanding all this dead work the clean up last week proved that money had been made counting out the unavoidable delays on account of the dry weather. This was beyond the expectation of its managers and is certainly very encouraging to all concerned. Such a drouth is very seldom ever seen in this section and it is troubling both miners and farmers and becoming alarming to every body else.

As stated last week Mr. Maxwell had leased several different properties here belonging to the Syndicate and Standard Companies and gone to work in a business like common sense way, causing us to feel like his efforts would be crowned with success and we are glad to state that in this short space of time he has mined in such a manner as to open the eyes of the owners of the property causing them to be fully convinced that they possess mines that will pay when operated by such men as Mr. Maxwell. At the Ivey he is taking out ore that is perfectly yellow with the precious metal worth several thousand dollars per ton which can be seen shining in the vein a considerable distance away. On the Standard property he is taking out valuable ore from what is known as the Weaver vein, and is also engaged at the Lockhart and started the mill this week on pay ore from that property, being the first time this mill has been run for many years. The gentleman employs only the best practical native miners which proves that he understands his business and is not engaged in mining just for his health. Mr. Maxwell came to Dahlonega from Knoxville, Tenn., near two years ago and after making a general survey of the mining field wrote several very interesting letters to leading northern papers, describing the country, stating that mining could be profitably run here if properly conducted. Now he is proving it to be true. Great credit is due Mr. Maxwell for he has stood up for the country while others would condemn it, and he certainly has our best wishes, for by his earnest and untiring efforts the country will be shown up in its true light.

Since it has been known that Hon. H. T. Lewis would resign as one of the Supreme Court Judges on account of ill health a number of candidates have appeared whose competency and claims will be passed upon by the democratic convention in July. Later.—We received a letter last Wednesday stating that Justice Lewis had decided not to resign.

Col. Estill has made an appeal to chairman Brown, of the state committee, for a recount in 20 different counties where he alleges irregularities occurred, and the matter will be submitted to the convention which convenes on the 2nd of July. Specific charges are made against Cobb, Banks, Laurens, Jefferson and fittall counties named are Emanuel, Towns, Union, White, Dawson, Washington, Murray, Dade, Lowndes, Gilmer, Forsyth, Worth, Miller, Fannin and Colquitt. Of the counties enumerated by Colonel Estill, Banks, Towns, Union, White, Dawson, Murray, Dade, Gilmer, Miller, Fannin, and Colquitt went for Terrell and have two votes each in the convention. Cobb, Emanuel, Lowndes, which went for Terrell had four votes each, and Washington and Laurens, which went for Guerry, had four votes each.

Dr. Howard wishes again to call attention to the fact that the best time to transplant box woods, and other evergreens, is from the 10th to the 30th of June.

Only 50 Cents to make your baby strong and well. A fifty cent bottle of Scott's Emulsion will change a sickly baby to a plump, roiling child. Only one cent a day, think of it. Its as nice as cream. Money for Old U. S. and Confederate Stamps. Look over your letter bearing stamps and see if you haven't a number. Look around in old boxes, and desks, and trunks, in the garret and other places, you may find a few. Write us a description of the stamps, or mail them to us and we will examine at once and make you a cash offer, if stamps are salable, and if they are not we will return them. Don't take the stamps from the envelopes, but send the envelopes with stamps attached.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 20, 1902.

Fresh yeast at Copelands.

When in Dahlonega stop at the Tate House. Good comfortable rooms and splendid fare.

Prof. J. M. Martin has returned to his old home at Perry, Ga., where he will remain for about a couple of weeks.

Prof. J. W. Boyd and J. M. Brooks had splendid luck while on their fishing trip across the Blue Ridge last week.

Mr. Love, who got his leg broke down at the Consolidated Company's mill some time ago, is able to be up and out a little.

Messrs. McGuire, Thomas Tate, Postmaster Tate and several others had quite a pleasant trip last week up in the mountains fishing.

The commissions for Notary Publics and new members of the board of education of this county have been received by Judge Huff. Call and receive them and get ready for business.

Politics even interfered with Sunday School children here. Very often before the primary their teachers were absent. Now that it is all over it is hoped that all the instructors will quiet down and get to work again.

Those anticipating going a fishing across the mountain had better start pretty soon or it will be no use. We heard from Profs. Steed and Ansted over there last week and they were catching the flimsy tribe by the hundreds.

A certain country preacher who drank liquor with the candidates when off to one side before the primary, refused to vote when the day came because he happened to see how one drunk at the polls. Oh how sorry we are for him.

Messrs. Scott and Pratt of Atlanta, who are interested in the Pyrites mine of this county, were up this week and went out on the property. It may be that they will commence operation soon as it has been anticipated by them for some time.

Last Saturday 18 parties stood the teachers examination at this place. In a few days their work will be passed upon by the school commissioner and all qualified to do so will be told to go and learn the young ideas how to shoot.

Marshal Harbison has stopped the midnight serenaders and there will be no more disturbances and liquor drinking in this manner any more. Those enjoying such occasions will have to make music and "take ten" earlier hereafter.

Breakfast Bacon in tin cans, Mince Meat, Corn Starch, Shredded Coconut, Chocolate, Grape Nuts, best Tea, Jellies, fresh crackers and Ginger Snaps. Full line of Heinz's goods—in fact the best of everything in groceries. Send us your orders. R. S. COPELAND.

The Souvenir of the N. G. A. College just issued is a beauty. It contains the photographs of the college buildings, faculty, graduating class, societies, Dahlonega and many other things of importance making it well worth the price asked for it—ten cents.

Cane Creek falls become a more popular resort every summer. Crowds of people go out nearly every day and enjoy a bath in the pure clear stream which heads in the mountains. An addition has been made to the bath house so as to accommodate the increased number of guests this season.

Grammar Billy of the Signal makes great promises in the future. With the beginning of next year the Signal is to appear in eleven different languages. Correspondents have been employed in London and Paris to give the news of these foreign countries and a native from China is to do the illustrating. Each paper is to be dipped in German cologne before mailed and the subscription price to county subscribers is to be reduced to 50 cents.

A little infant of Charlie McAfee died here last Monday.

Messrs. Doherty and Odoherty of Louisville, Ky., were among the visitors here this week.

Plums and green apples are plentiful causing physicians to wear pleasant smiles.

Mr. William Jones of Dahlonega was wedded last Sunday to Miss Lula Black, a daughter of Mr. Richard Black of Dawson county.

Many of the young ladies don't take the apparent interest in religious services now as they did before the school boys left, causing the congregations to be much smaller.

Geo. Marlow killed a large rattler on the Neisler Ford road the other day. A party with him said that he heard a dry fly or locust and in looking saw and heard it making music to perfection.

We understand that a preacher up in the mountains before starting out to marry, a couple took a good large drink. This gave his voice the proper tone and kept him from being embarrassed.

Now during the dull season is a good time for the merchants to advertise. Offer some special inducements and keep busy. This is the way to build up a trade and bring about money.

Attorney B. P. Gaillard, of Gainesville, spent a couple of days with his relatives and friends here this week. Mr. Gaillard is an old Dahlonega boy and the people of his native home are always glad to meet him.

Col. Price, who weighs about three hundred, went out to the falls and took a bath there for the first time last week. The Colonel can't dart about in the water like a boy but he enjoys it all the same.

The better class of citizens in the upper portion of this county not liking the way a male and female were doing, gave them their choice—to marry or be prosecuted. They married the other day and the law is satisfied whether they are or not.

Quite a number of citizens here take their supper out at Cane Creek falls once or twice a week and spend the night at this delightful place until bed time. We hope to see the time come when a large hotel will be opened at the falls for the benefit of summer guests.

Some time ago Joe Sparks saw an advertisement of a Hartford, Conn., company which proposed to give a sewing machine to a person selling $3.00 worth of pills. Joe didn't wait to sell the pills but sent on the money for the machine. And last Saturday he received a little toy machine by mail, the postage on it only costing fifteen cents, causing him to use some words not heard in churches.

Down at the Chestate power plant one day last week Will Burns was struck on the back of the neck and shoulders by a falling tool chest which was being hoisted with a derrick, the handle of which broke causing the accident but fortunately his injuries were not serious. A plank dropped on top of E. W. Strickland's head flat way which stunned Mr. Strickland for awhile but strange to say didn't hurt him the least bit.

Quite a frightful accident occurred to Col. Charters last Saturday afternoon while driving his family and Miss Scafe out to Cane Creek falls in a surrey. In going down a steep rise this side of the creek the breast strap broke and the tongue dropped causing the vehicle to turn completely over with the passengers, holding them fast to the ground until help arrived. Fortunately none were hurt except being bruised and scratched a little. Had the horses not broke loose from the vehicle no doubt some of them would have been seriously injured if not killed. Col. Charters had only a few days previous remarked that some one would be hurt before the road was changed, and sure enough his prediction came to pass.

Miss Jessie Wood, of Atlanta, is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. H. McAfee.

We are glad to state that should J. H. McKee decide to move his stock of goods back to Dawson county that he will still keep his children in school at Dahlonega.

The Consolidated Co. cutting off the water last week so as to repair the long tubes very much inconvenienced our merchants and citizens who use the electric lights.

Uncle Ashbury Free, who resides out at the Early place a few miles from Dahlonega had a severe stroke of paralysis one day last week effecting one whole side of him, and the old man's condition is very critical.

Summer visitors residing in warm climates have already commenced to search for pleasant places to spend the summer. Some fifteen or twenty have arrived at Porter Springs, although it is pretty early in the season for them.

Gen. Warner left for New York last Monday. We are not at liberty to tell you but will say this much, that the prospects for a railroad are brighter than ever before, and if you hear a "boom in the air" at an early period you needn't be surprised.

If you want the news subscribe for the Nugget, and if you wish a paper with plate matter on one side and big college grammar words on the other take the Signal, published by Tom Thumb Billy who swells up and expands like a giant after taking one drink of corn juice. And when he says something big he cackles like a guinea hen after it produces an egg.

E. W. Wimpy and "Chocvat" Davis, who recently got defeated for office in the primary, didn't fall out with their opponents and people like some do and swear that they won't vote. But on the other hand say that they are going to come up on the day of the election and put in a great long ticket for all those who were nominated. This is true democracy.

Last Sunday was the regular meeting day at Yahools church. The pastor was absent and not near so large a crowd present as was in attendance at the meeting just before the primary. The pastor receives no salary and has been absent every meeting at this place for some time. Preachers are like other persons, they love money, and when not getting anything they may be expected to be absent frequently. The church may call Rev. Mat Grizzle to take charge.

The dry weather in this section has been the longest at this season known for years. Last Sunday refreshing showers fell in various localities of the county but we had little here. The preachers of Dahlonega neglecting their religious work and discussing politics may be one cause of such a drought, for the Lord is not apt to send blessings unless they are asked for. But now that the primary is over we trust that they will resume their duties and ask for rain instead of certain kinds of politics.

Last Saturday the long talked of charge against Rev. D. W. Colds, pastor of Mt. Pisgah church in this county, came up. John Turner acted as moderator and when the case of the defendant charged with being drunk and wrongfully accusing two of the members of stealing his pocket book was sounded Uncle Caleb Seabolt, the father of one of the accusers, and the defendant would have looked horns right in the church had not the bluffs and friends interfered. Had one lick been struck it would have been one of the biggest rows on record. By the persuasion of parties interested the matter was declared settled. Uncle Caleb and brother Coldwell shook hands and all sat down and sang a good old hymn together and peace, quietude and happiness reigns once more in Mt. Pisgah church.

Mrs. L. Bruce died near New Bridge last Sunday of consumption, aged about 28.

Parties wanting dry pine or oak wood at $1.50 per cord delivered should apply to E. E. Crisson.

Your attention is directed to the ad. of John Howard to be found in another column, who desires to purchase old stamps. If you have any send them in.

Geo. W. Bruce has moved his family down to New Bridge this week so he will be convenient to his work on the power plant of the Electric Railway Co.

Hands are now engaged in putting up the post from Gainesville to the power plant on the Chestate river in this county, and by the first of September it is anticipated that the light will be turned on Gainesville.

It has been so dry that we are told that some of the mountain blockaders had to change places so as to get water sufficient to carry on their business. When a still house dries up you may know that rain is needed.

The board of trustees of the N. G. A. College will ask the war department to change commandants at this institution. Capt. Cusick is attentive enough for one of his age, but they desire a younger and more active officer, so as to be able to keep the military department up to the top notch.

Last Saturday Mrs. Mary Grizzle, a sister of sheriff Davis, was tried for larceny and found by the jury to be a fit subject for the asylum. Mrs. Grizzle was sent off some two years or more to this institution and recovered so she was released and returned to her home and it was hoped that the lady was entirely well but time has proven differently.

There is a young man in Crumby's district "dead" in love with a young lady up in Chestate, adjoining districts. He is in a dreadful condition. When he's asleep he dreams about her and when he's awake he takes no rest. You young men having a sweetheart know how it is. In writing his last letter he got out of anything to pen and remembering that her father had a nice lot of little dogs, wound up his remarks by requesting her to be sure and save him one of "them purps."

The city taxes will likely be heavier than they were last year. There is no way to prevent it. This is caused by the decrease in the valuation of property since the Consolidated Company's boom has gone down. It's property alone not being returned as much as last year by thousands of dollars, a great deal of it being within the corporate limits. We trust that its management will be put in good hands and work resumed on a firmer basis and the stockholders come out all right yet.

Prof. B. P. Gaillard and his daughter, Miss Fannie, left last week for Chicago, Ill., where this young lady goes to complete her last course in education. Miss Fannie has been elected to fill the vacancy in the Dahlonega public school caused by the resignation of Miss Susie Martin, who will begin her duties at the opening of the fall session. The board has certainly acted wisely in securing the services of Miss Gaillard, causing all the patrons of the institution to feel proud and the little ones to be happy.

It's like a gentleman remarked here the other day. More people in this county should be engaged in the tillage of the soil so as not to have to depend upon the mines or any other public works for a living. The farmers are the most independent class of people on earth but we are sorry to say that Lumpkin is far behind all of her sister counties in this respect. Really some who pretend to farm have to buy much of their supplies. They neglect their crops to work in the mines and therefore make a failure in both causing them to have to buy bread when if more attention was paid to the farm this would not be the case.

Mr. Howe of Gainesville, was in the city this week.

Mrs. Geo. Grizzle died in Nimbleshill district last Monday.

Geo. M. Edwards moved his family to Atlanta this week.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle's twelve year-old son weighs over 125 pounds.

Several hands left here for Alabama this week in search of employment.

Col. and Mrs. Moore went over to Canton Ga., to spend a few days this week.

Quite a crowd enjoyed a moonlight pic nic out at Cane Creek falls last Wednesday night.

Messrs. Courtney and Meeks of White county, were down last Wednesday taking in the sights of the city.

During the heavy wind storm here Wednesday lightning struck a tree in front of J. H. Jenkins house but hurt no one. Only enough rain fell to lay the dust.

Piercan Edmonson put on his hat and took a stroll over to Ducktown this week to keep from paying a fine which had been imposed upon him by the mayor just after the primary.

Mr. L. Byrd Frawick, a student of the Gailand College for the deaf at Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. S. L. Prator and family a few days. Mr. Frawick is on his way home at Oodertown, Ga., to spend vacation.

Columbus Peck and Will Grigory opened the summer fights in Shoal Creek district last Sunday, the latter beating the former up with his fist so that it swelled up like a good size gourd, gaining the victory but hurting himself about as bad as his antagonist.

Mr. Jones, of North Carolina, president of the Cavender's Creek Gold Mining Co.; together with five other members of the company appeared upon the property last Tuesday, some of them for the first time. Three of the gentlemen are from New York, one being a Mr. Gould. All have abundance of money to do anything they wish.

Fast black umbrellas 34c to $1.38. Steel enamel ware, will last for years—large coffee pots, slow stoves, preserving kettles, $35 sewing machine only $19.75. Good alarm clocks 80c; 25 cent egg beater 9c; ladies keep cool in our net corsets and shorts girdles price one-third less than usually sold for. President suspenders 46c; nice suspenders 18c; one quire of paper and one pack of envelopes 5c to 25c; photographs 8c; blind bridges 53c.

B. R. MEADES & SONS.

The series of meetings which were conducted at the Presbyterian church for several days, closed this week. The pastor, Mr. Blackwell, was assisted by Rev. Mr. Simpson of Gainesville. The church is weak and Mr. Blackwell is using his best efforts to build it up and we feel confident that he will meet with success for he does not change his voice and try to imitate Sam Jones nor any one else, but speaks plain and distinct so as to be understood by both the Lord and people.

Mayor Baker is not trying to force the class legislation ordinance which was passed for the benefit of druggists by a former council, allowing them to sell cigars, tobacco and temperance drinks on Sunday. Druggists have no more right to sell anything but drugs and medicines on Sunday than any one else. The state prohibits this and no city council cannot pass an ordinance to license them to do so. All the council can legally do is to punish parties for opening on Sunday, which does not include restaurants and drugstores. For instance John Hatfield runs a restaurant and keeps cigars and tobacco. A person after taking a meal on Sunday asks for a cigar. He can't sell it under the ordinance but the fellow gets up and goes to the drug store and buys a smoke. Is this justice?

For bargains go to T. J. Smith, the Cash Store on Gaddis-town Street.

Merchant Littlefield went over to Griff Evans last Tuesday to lay in a bill of lumber to build him a residence on his beautiful lot on which his store is located.

Last Friday as Geo. Marlow was handling some soda water one of the bottles exploded and pieces of it penetrated his throat causing blood to flow freely for awhile.

Milt Loyeless killed a mad dog the other day near C. M. Moores. It came running and snapped and grabbed at every thing that came in its reach and when it tackled Milt he killed it with a stick.

M. Chester and his son Harry, who have been down about Carrollton gold mining, returned last Tuesday. It is most too hot and dry down that way to be comfortable and they came back where they could enjoy a pleasant breeze.

Some one came over and carried another load of negroes off to the marble works last Sunday. In some places this would have been objected to and caused trouble but it is different here. Some of them are so sorry that people are glad to see them go.

On Friday two lovers went out to Bill Anderson's in the country to spend the night with their colored friend. After retiring some one shot three holes through the door with a pistol causing the happy couple and all the rest of the inmates to feel a little uncomfortable till daylight.

Mrs. Mac Rider, while on a visit to her father, J. W. Ravan in Chestate district died last Monday. The lady had been in bad health for some time but seemed to be getting along very well. On Saturday she wanted to visit her father and was carried over by her husband a distance of a few miles only. At noon Monday she ate a hearty dinner, who shortly afterwards commenced vomiting and expired in ten minutes.

Some parties from Gainesville informed us this week that a negro named Quillian was murdered at Chestnut Mountain in Hall county last week by a bailiff from the adjoining county. The bailiff came to arrest him and after doing so tied him and then got drunk, and shot the prisoner. Afterwards he walked off a few yards from the place and went to sleep. The murderer is now in jail and ought to have his neck stretched without much of a ceremony.

Leory Pitner of Rome, is up on a visit for the first time in a year or so. In coming and passing the house in Hall county where two men were killed by a man some time ago, he had some fun out of a couple of persons along who wanted to visit the place and see the blood and quilts on the floor where the horrible deed occurred. He saw that they were a little superstitious as one wished a gun when starting. Pitner slipped around and got in the corner of the house while the parties were viewing the scene and shot his pistol five times and such running as those men did has not been heard of since Loggins got scared at a beg in the same house.

Right recently some one placed broken glass in the edge of the creek where bathers enter the water out at Cane Creek falls. Doubtless it was done by some one who opposes parties bathing there because it interferes with the country boys who go in washing the old fashioned way, without any suits on. This is wrong because it might seriously injure some of their best friends. There is no use of bad feeling existing between the town and country people. If they want a favor of any kind and it can be granted in town her citizens generally do it. Let them come to an agreement so all can enjoy themselves at this delightful place, by the country boys using it on Saturday and Sunday if they choose and no families appear there on these days. Why wouldn't this be agreeable?

TO SUMMER VISITORS.

ALL who are in search of health and recreation are cordially invited to come to Dahlonega. With an altitude of 2,237 feet makes it one of the most healthy and delightful places in the south. So if you wish to enjoy a pure fresh mountain breeze and be comfortable during the summer months come. Good board can be obtained at private houses for $15 per month, and at hotels from $20 to $25. Stage fare from Gainesville, 25 miles, $1.50.

Where Christ Was Born.

It delights the soul to find at last a clean and well kept town in Palestine, and the more so because it is Bethlehem, a place which appears more strongly and deeply to the religious and poetic sentiment than any other on earth, because it has been the scene of the most beautiful idyls in human history; for was it not here that Ruth gleaned the fields of Boaz, and not only won a good husband but became the mother of a long line of kings, and was it not here that Jacob laid the body of his beloved Rachel? Looking from the walls of the convent you can see the home of Jesse, the slopes upon which David herded his sheep, the farm of Boaz, the cave in which David hid from Saul, the fields in which the shepherds were abiding, keeping watch over their flocks by night when they saw the star of Bethlehem, and the paths by which they approached the stable in which the young child lay. All this scarcely seems real, but there it is, spread out before you like any ordinary landscape, like the views in any ordinary country, and there are no fakes in the natural features of Bethlehem. The landscape is exactly the same this morning as it was on that memorable day when Samuel came up from Gilgath to choose a king from the chief men of Judea.

According to the legends, the star fell into a well, and you can see it there now. The rest is so real, so actual, so tangible that one is tempted to believe that story, and I saw the star myself, twinkling in the dark water.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Shooting Scrape Near Thompson's Mill.

News reached the city this week of a serious shooting scrape near Thompson's Mills. It is alleged that Rev. W. A. Lamp, pastor of the Congregationalist church near Hoschtion, shot and fatally wounded Frank Duncan, Jr., son of John Duncan, who had entered a rear window in the minister's house at 12 o'clock Saturday night. The shooting was done with a shot gun, and the lead took effect in young Duncan's stomach. Dr. Allen of Hoschtion, was called and he pronounced the wound a fatal one. It is alleged that illicit relations existed between young Duncan and one of Mr. Lamp's daughters.—Gainesville News.

We never knew a man to be successful who was always talking about business being bad. Never allow yourself to dwell on the dark side of any thing. You should refuse to talk about depressed markets or hard times. Learn to talk up, not down. Many business men become chronic grumblers or fault-finders. Times are always hard for them. Other men get into a pessimistic rut, and never see brightness or success in anything. It is impossible for such people to prosper. Success is a delicate plant and requires encouragement and sunshine.—Marietta Journal.

A Fine Chance for a Good-Looking Man.

A recent issue of the Anzawa-Shimbun, one of the leading newspapers of Tokio, Japan, contained the following advertisement:

I am a pretty woman. My luxuriant, curly hair envelops me like a cloud. My figure is as slender as the branch of a willow tree, and my body just as supple. My face is smooth and shining like the satin sheen of flowers. I am a widow and sufficiently wealthy to walk hand in hand through life with a husband. If I should find a good looking, pleasant, intelligent and well educated lord and master, who also possesses good taste, then I would be ready to unite myself with him for life, and share the pleasure of enjoying with him the eternal rest offered by a tomb made of red marble.

If the Englishman who advertised, a few days ago, for a rich American wife has no insurmountable race prejudices it may pay him to communicate with this lady. We have no desire to argue that a Japanese widow, even though she may possess a form as slender as the branch of a willow tree and a face as smooth and shining as the satin sheen of flowers, can be anywhere near as lovely as a fair specimen of American womanhood. But the chance to enjoy eternal rest in a tomb made of red marble ought to attract even the most fastidious.

It is to be hoped that the lady's desires may speedily be filled.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Old Love Rekindled.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17.—After a separation of six years John D. Foster and Mrs. Lizzie Foster became convinced that the difference which had brought them into the divorce court so long ago and which had kept them apart ever since should no longer cause their paths in life to deviate. Acting upon this they repaired to the office of Justice W. C. Fuller and were remarried.

Behind this marriage is concealed a romance at once pretty and interesting. When the couple were divorced the two children, then near 4 years of age each, were given into the custody of Mrs. Foster. Since that time the mother has kept the children in school, the father, who is employed as a coppersmith in one of the railroad shops of Montgomery, has kept a watchful eye over them.

Some time since he became convinced that in view of the fact that he was earning a good salary it was his duty to do his share by the young ones. To this end he sought his divorced wife and together they talked of the children's future. These conferences resulted in the rekindling of the old flames of love. Past differences were forgotten in the plans for the future and they decided to marry.

British Peace Terms to the Boers.

The terms of the British to the Boers were read in the British House of Commons Monday, June 2, and are as follows:

"The burgher forces lay down their arms and over all their rifles guns and munitions of war in their possession, or under their control.

"All prisoners are to be brought back so soon as possible to South Africa, without loss of liberty or property.

"No action to be taken against prisoners, except where they are guilty of breaches of the rules of war.

"Dutch is to be taught in the schools, if desired by the parents, and used in the courts of necessity.

"Rifles are allowed for protection.

"Military occupation is to be withdrawn as soon as possible and self-government substituted.

"There is to be no tax on the Transvaal to pay the cost of the war.

"The sum of 3,000,000 lbs. sterling is to be provided for re-stocking the Boers farms.

"Rebels are liable to trial, according to the law of the colony to which they belong. The rank and file will be disfranchised for life.

"The death penalty will not be inflicted."

All He Has to Do.

An editor of a country newspaper has no business to make mistakes. He has no business ever to get anything into his paper that people do not like. He ought to know what would suit each individual or he ought to take each item before it is published and let the person whom it concerns censor it. An editor has plenty of time to do this as all he has to do it to hunt news and clean rollers, set type clean the floor, pen short items and hustle advertising, press the papers, fold them and mail them, write the wrappers, talk to visitors and distribute type, read proofs, correct mistakes, split wood (when there's any to split), build the fires, hunt the scissors to clip articles, dodge the bills and dun delinquents, take cussing and tell the subscribers he needs money, these are a few of the things a country editor has to contend with and yet he should not make mistakes in his paper while attending to such minor details, at the same time living on ox tail soup, sunshine, wind, pudding and imagination, with anticipatio for dessert, old shoes and collar, a patch on the equator of his pants, and at the same time turning a smiling countenance to the man who tells him that his paper isn't worth the subscription price and that anyone could run a much better one with their eyes shut.—Selected.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 27, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Fifty leading men of Paterson, N. J., have formed an organization to drive every anarchist out of the city.

Hon. DuPont Guerry, one of the defeated candidates for governor, is going to start a weekly newspaper.

The construction of the Atlanta depot has only been made on paper, and it begins to look now like this finishes the job.

Gov. Candler has borrowed the required money to pay the public school teachers but refuses to state from whence it came.

Since Mr. Guerry failed to get the gubernatorial chair he has decided to use a country editors stool and write about prohibition matters.

Women must be careful how they snap old pistols in their husbands faces. One had to pay a fine of $50.75 for this foolish act in Atlanta last week.

The recent rains in Georgia have been worth thousands of dollars to the state. The drought was really becoming alarming and cutting the crops short at a rapid rate.

Last week a great stretch of country in the neighborhood of Buckley, Washington, was swept by forest fires. Scores of mountain campers perished in the flames.

Sixty-seven parties stood the teachers examination in Fannin county and eighty-five in Union recently. This proves that they have been taking an interest in educational affairs over that way.

The other day the U. S. pensioner received a letter from a man asking that his pension be reduced. An investigation revealed the fact that he was drawing a pension, but that he was in the insane asylum.

The new ware house under construction at Canton, Ga., belonging to W. J. Webb, was blown down during the wind storm on Wednesday of last week, injuring several workmen who were engaged on the building.

A negro shot into the camps of Uncle Sam at Fort McPerson one night last week but hurt no one. He got away. This is a pretty bold act. Will congress appoint an investigation committee like it does when a negro is insulted, to look after this?

Calaway Atkins, a noted moonshiner from Winnett county undertook to settle his sentence in Judge Newmans court in Atlanta the other day by fainting, but the Judge waited until he recovered and finishing telling him that he must serve in the U. S. penitentiary two years and pay a fine of $500.

Some of the republicans have made personal appeals to several of the so called independent democrats in this county for them to make the race for certain offices, but so far have failed. The independent is like a little boy in his shirt tail looking at this years horns nest. He would like to have the nest but is afraid of getting stung by the democrats in an effort to secure it.

A man in Ontario has been sleeping now for ten days. He eats and drinks and moves about, but doesn't wake up, and his physicians are greatly puzzled. There are a whole lot of just such men in Tattall county. They are the fellows who are trying to run a mercantile business and never have an ad. in their county paper.—Tattall Journal. And there are several of them in Dahlonega, who grumble because they do not do as good a business as those who advertise and invite customers into their stores.

Mining Notes.

Poston and Gayden are opening up the Jaquish mine and have some fine shows.

Eight-Ten is running on full time making money.

Mr. McAfee is opening up the Rutherford property.

"Choctaw" Davis is now engaged at mining down on the old reliable Tan Yard branch making very good wages.

The clean up down at the Lockhart by Mr. Maxwell last week was very satisfactory considering it was a lot of waste that had to be gotten out of the way.

Tom Duckett, Will Weaver and Jack Townsend are taking out ore down on the Singleton property with a good prospect of making money as they do their own work and bossing and thoroughly understand their business.

The clean up at the Breyman boat was a splendid one again this week. Among the nuggets found last week was one weighing eight pennyweights, clearly demonstrating that there are yet undiscovered rich veins in that locality.

The repairing of the long tube on the Hand canal was stopped and the water turned on last Friday after being engaged on it for ten days but it leaked at other places so that the water failed to get through, which will receive attention as soon as some nuts are received.

Mr. Packard of Turkey Hill, got his pump and everything in running shape last week and we guess by this time has commenced taking out the gold for it is well known that this property contains it, and this fine old gentleman has men engaged who understand saving yellow metal without any big extra expense.

Capt. H. D. Ingersoll according to instructions from the Consolidated commenced opening up the beds of iron ore on its property near Dahlonega this week. They are going down on it and the prospect for an inexhaustible supply is good. At one place the bed is 50 feet across and is traceable for several hundred yards.

Mr. Maxwell has just had another vein opened up on the Ivey. It is on the same lead of the celebrated Rock House vein, worth about $10 per ton. The Ivey has produced much gold and if the water is put on it again and the mill repaired and set to running it will turn out a great deal more if operated by practical miners.

A miner who is in a position to know informed us last Sunday that the sluice ways at the Crown Mountain would pay all the expenses of running the mine, giving that made by the mills as a cleared profit. The recent clean up convinced them of this fact. All that is needed now is plenty of power and this will be had later on.

Down in Auraria district just after a rain three beautiful nuggets were picked up in the road, the largest weighing a pennyweight and fourteen grains. We saw two of them and they were right smooth where the wagons had run over them. Some coarse gold could be seen in the gully, convincing the finder that there is a valuable vein close by. It is on the Consolidated property.

President Jones of the Caverdys Creek mine has come and gone, and the gentleman who accompanied him to the property for the first time were pleased with the outlook—couldn't help it for they were shown gold in the mill, on the plates, large veins containing it, causing most everything to look quite yellow to the strangers, thoroughly convincing them that this is most excellent property as every one acquainted with it knows. Among the veins is one known as the Buck Howard, which is from four inches to two feet in width, stripped for four hundred feet, all containing gold. If the weather continues dry but one more run will be made till a canal is cut for the necessary supply of water. Then a larger mill will be built and other machinery installed.

If the Findley and Lockhart mines were owned by the same company how easy it would be to work the former mine. All this side of the Findley is a soft formation which could be sluiced down to the Lockhart mill with all ease. When if the Findley is worked at its own mill a new dam will have to be built, and nearly every bit of the ore is very hard requiring much time, labor and money to blast it.

We feel confident that the owners of the Barlow property will put in lifts and work their part of Cane creek bed as soon as Roberts and Johnson get straightened out with their lift on the property adjoining. There has been some talk of blasting out certain shoals on the Barlow for the purpose of working the bed of the stream but it will cost a thousand dollars or more to do this and it is useless to spend this big amount of money when the creek bed can be worked by lifts.

One of the members of the Consolidated Co. told us the other day that he would never feel satisfied until they sunk a shaft down at the Hand five hundred or a thousand feet deep, for most certainly the ore found near the top of the ground didn't come from the heavens. We agree with him. There is no doubt in our minds but what there are large and much richer veins deep in this country. Look at some of the great mines of the west—the Comstock for instance. Thousands of dollars were lost there until they decided to make a test deep down into the earth, striking large bodies of rich ore producing gold by the thousands of pennyweights. Who knows but what rich beds of ore exist deep below in the bowels of the earth in this country? No one for it has never been tried.

Mr. Disney, president of the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., was in the city a few hours last Sunday examining the Crown Mountain plant, in company with other gentlemen. The mine which Mr. Lindsey represents is better known here as the Briar Patch, one of the best mines in this district. It has produced much gold and will turn out a great deal more, not being worked out by any means, for it contains a vast body of mineral lands, much of which has not been even touched for the like of water power. Arrangements are being made to overcome this difficulty in the near future by cutting a twenty-five mile canal to supply the mine with all the water power necessary. The success the Breyman and Hager boats are having, has caused this company to want one for operation in the river bed of its property, which we learn is to be commenced as soon as possible. It is bound to pay for free gold is found by panning all over the bottom lands as well as on the hills and the river bed is bound to contain gold in paying quantities.

Roberts and Johnson have just gotten fairly started with their hoist down on the Gordon property and the prospects are very flattering. They are commencing in the bed of Cane creek where the old Barlow dam used to be. Four years ago before the dam washed away Mr. Johnson and four other miners worked in the creek below it and made big money. One day they cleaned up 72 pennyweights, another 58 and at no time come under less than 30 pennyweights. During the time they found many large nuggets, one of them weighing 35 pennyweights. Now they are above where the dam has been catching the gold from the near by hills for many years. Besides this it is known that a very rich chute runs into the bed of the creek close where they are at. It was worked by Mr. Fry up to the bank of the dam, as far as he could go, a few years ago, and it may be that the big nugget came from it. Now this is their prospect for a gold mine. Wouldn't you love to have it?

Burtsboro News.

Miss Coa Anderson, daughter of J. R. Anderson, of the firm of Anderson Bros., at McKee died last Saturday evening, after a weeks illness of flux and was buried at Shoal Creek cemetery Sunday evening. She was a popular girl just in the bloom of young womanhood. I never saw a larger crowd of people at that place on a funeral occasion.

The two year old daughter of Henry Darnell was buried at the same time and the funerals of both were preached at the same time.

Victor Harden of this place had his leg broken Sunday morning by a horse falling on it while crossing the bridge at my mill in a run. It was set by Dr. Baber of Davs sonville and he is doing well now.

The writer was a loser of over a hundred dollars in the DeLoach burning in Atlanta recently. Had a lot of machinery and possibly the patterns of my resawing machine burned.

J. W. Burr. Dr. Len G. Broughton, the sensational preacher of Atlanta, declared in a sermon preached Sunday night that the devil invented fraternal societies to damn men's souls. Yet he said in the course of his remarks: "They are doing for church members what the church itself has failed to do. They care for the sick; the church does not. They take care of the widow and orphan; too frequently the church does not." It is very queer reasoning that makes this the devil's work. The recent political campaign having ended Dr. Broughton must be hard up for material for a sensation.—Macon Telegraph.

Grover Cleveland has already commenced fishing for the presidents office.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 27, 1902.

See teachers institute notice elsewhere in this issue.

T. B. Eldridge, of Cincinnati, O., was among the visitors here last week.

Fodder is getting cheap here now. Only $1.00 was offered for it last Friday.

Eggs and chickens, especially the latter, still bring a good price in Dahlonega.

Mr. F. P. Catchings of Dahlonega, was wedded last Wednesday to Miss Sussie Martin at Perry, Ga.

Some of the negroes who went out to the marble works are returning. Too much work out there to please them.

Persons wishing the Nugget can send money with order. This will cause your letter to receive attention at once, and save you money.

We keep various sizes of both square and round cornered cards. So if you need any printed send in or come and we will certainly suit you in both price and work.

At a church trial recently in the country there was one leading member absent. He had been on a drunk for ten days and didn't feel able to sit up on the amen bench.

The pilots and other snakes were so numerous up where they were repairing the long tubes last week that some of the hands got afraid and quit work. It was either the hot sun, most likely the latter.

B. R. Meaders & Sons have been making some big improvements on the interior and exterior of their store in the way of glass fronts and large glass counters or show cases. Men who advertise in the Nugget can afford to do anything they wish.

R. L. McCabe, from the north came in last week to take a peep at his large mining interest here. He was accompanied by James McMillan, who after making an inspection of mining and other industries expressed himself as being highly pleased with the outlook.

It seems from the tone of editor Bell's paper down at Swainsboro, that he is highly pleased with his recent visit to Dahlonega. The citizens never fail to throw open wide her gates and extend a welcome hand to visitors, especially when such good clever fellows as Mr. Bell make a call.

There is but one colored man in Lumpkin county who draws a pension and that is Innae Rucker, so we are told. He was in the regular United States army but made several efforts before he could secure it. The first draw he got about $200 and since has been receiving eight dollars per month.

The hot weather below is driving the people up to Porter Springs, being 25 or 30 there now already and many to come. Some are expected in Dahlonega and the place would have been full of visitors had those interested commenced in time telling them that there were accommodations for a large number here.

The farmer who failed to sell his fodder when he could have gotten a good price for it, missed it. Now that it is worth only about a dollar per hundred it is not worth hauling to town. But be patient. They will all get out of fodder here after awhile and you will have a chance to sell yet. And it will learn you a lesson to always trade when you are offered a good price.

We are ready for a few more subscribers to the Nugget. Deadheads not wanted. We are not running a newspaper for fun, although we get tickled some times. It's the cash we are after and if we don't give you your money's worth just drop us a card and we will discontinue the same and return what you have paid. We are not begging, remember, only soliciting your patronage.

The days are getting shorter now.

F. L. Reese is repairing his residence.

The health of Dahlonega was never better.

Judge Huff has had a coat of hard cement put on the jail near the foundation so as to protect its walls. Good move.

The lunatic asylum will receive another inmate from this county soon judging from the actions of a woman in Dahlonega.

This week has been unusually pleasant and cool for the time of year. The mercury standing at 63 of mornings during the first of the week.

The export for the teachers institute of the county, which convenes soon, will not be elected until the regular July meeting of the board of education.

We keep three different qualities—good, better and best—of type writer paper at the Nugget office so as to be able to accommodate those wanting it.

Sheriff Davis is making but few arrests now. He says that it is more expensive than profit until meat gets lower than 14 cents, to feed prisoners on.

Most of Gainesville citizens work against Dahlonega. Even the waiters at hotels have been taught to do it and no doubt caused a many person intending to come here to stay there or go in another direction.

Married, at the residence of Col. W. A. Charters last Monday morning Miss Willie May Scaife to Mr. R. S. Crowder, of Stinson, Ga. Rev. Mr. Pierce, the pastor of the Methodist church here officiating. As soon as the ceremony was over the happy couple took their departure from Dahlonega.

Not long ago when a marriage occurred we wrote a great long ragsmole, wishing the happy couple much success, &c., and it wasn't a month before they fell out and had a fight. So we see that wishing married people much joy does no good and we have quit taking up useless space in doing it.

Up in Chestate district the other day while her husband was absent from home Mrs. Kirk Henson decided to dissolve co-partnership. So gathering up her belongings the wife and her father left out for Texas. We could tell you what caused the father to leave but owing to our very modest disposition and fear of fainting leave you to get the news from some other source.

On Sunday morning last little Clay Harbison was severely burned on the arm by a cup of hot coffee taking part of the skin off before a remedy could be applied. As soon as it could be procured from the store a pound of salts was bound around his arm and kept wet with water. In a short while the little fellow went to sleep and next morning was playing about with the rest of the children as usual. This is Dr. N. F. Howard's remedy and it never fails.

Profs. Ansted and Steed returned last week from a two weeks trip across the Blue Ridge fishing for mountain trout. They had splendid luck, catching near two hundred in one day and had fish until they got tired of them. Last year Prof. Ansted went to the Nantahala mountains in North Carolina in company with Prof. Gaillard. One day the setting of the sun caught them six miles from any house, without anything to eat except a small piece of corn bread. There they had to build up a fire and remain till day. The night was cool and after eating a little bread they kept warm the best they could till morning. Then they finished up their little piece of corn bread and left out for the "fishing ground." Prof. Ansted and Steed camped out this time but were in a more populated country and had no such experience as that of Prof. Ansted and Gaillard a year ago. This is life in the mountains.

Some appearance of rain.

Judge Huff has sent for the male pensioners blanks which are expected in every mail.

F. T. Festus, of Florence, S. C., the guest of Rev. D. J. Blackwell, takes his departure for home next week after spending a short time in our city.

Mrs. Croff Moore left last Tuesday to join her husband who is down at Floyd Springs for the purpose of seeing if he can't regain his health.

Subscribers who receive their papers at the Dahlonega postoffice may know when their subscriptions expire by a cross mark on their papers and those at a distance can tell by dates.

It seems that the rural mail delivery which many were expecting to have in the county is all imagination. We are not all surprised. First place the roads are too bad and second the people are too thinly settled.

Even a merchant of Seneca, S. C., is expecting to move to Dahlonega and do business when the railroad comes. This place will be one of the liveliest towns in Georgia in no distant day. Mark our prediction and don't you forget it.

Miss Mary Blackwell, of Abbeville, N. C., who has been spending some weeks here with her brother, Rev. D. J. Blackwell, will leave for her home next week, accompanied by Mrs. Blackwell who goes for a short visit to her old home.

That young couple out on a certain porch last Monday night exchanging words of love just before the moon rose was certainly a happy occasion. From the way they whispered into each others ears we are led to believe that Judge Huff will receive another $1.50 soon.

Some of our merchants who do not advertise fail to appear at their stores of mornings till the sun is an hour or two high. Last Tuesday we noticed that a young lady came from the country and sold her butter to one of the live merchants before the sleepy ones even woke up.

A blockader located a short distance below the Nugget office last Saturday night and it was right amusing to see a number of persons who drink behind the door and are opposed to intoxicants on hand welcoming the moonshiner and getting a little of the products of his labor for medicinal purposes.

Next Sunday is children's day at the colored Baptist church. The program is lengthy and one of the most interesting we have seen in a long time showing that the colored people here take great interest in their Sunday School. For the like of space we are unable to publish the program on account of its length.

Prohibition will never play any active part in Lumpkin county with the present generation, matters not how many temperance societies they have and what Mr. Guerry does and says. There are too many that love liquor and as the negro said, their tastes can't be changed. Look at the members of the church who were intoxicated during the last primary. Up at Yahola law ground on the day of the election where there are numbers of "hard shell" Baptists, one leading member of a different denomination, while pretty full of the choice juice stood up on his tip toes and with an up stretched hand said that "liquor and 'hard shell' Baptists were doing more to send people to hell than anything else." This man spoke doubtless from experience. And at another place recently where the pastor of the church had been drunk a charge was made against him and before the time of the trial arrived there being so many of its members who had been in the same condition it was decided to change it to slander instead of drunkenness, and finally let the whole thing drop and the preacher goes on with his pulpit work same as ever.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn is touching up his house with the painters brush.

Our friend Rev. D. J. Blackwell is suffering with a severe cold since shaving his moustache off.

Mrs. M. N. Stow returned this week after an absence of some time in North Carolina on a visit to her relatives.

Matters not how dull it gets you will always find the merchant who advertises getting the biggest end of the trade.

Mrs. Ansted after a few weeks to her old home down at Rossville, Ga., has returned accompanied by two of her sisters.

No attention paid to communications unless names of writer accompany them. Not for publication but for our protection.

Matters not what changes take place the Nugget will still be issued at one dollar per year. A weekly paper that is not worth this price is not worth reading.

Atlanta has a "big four" female and Dahlonega and Gainesville has a "big six" each. But since the fishing season has set in Dahlonega has been absent for some time on a little outing.

Up to this writing we have had no rain in Dahlonega for sometime and the gardens are drying up. In the country this and last week it has rained at various places and the corn crops generally look very promising.

Our citizens here are signing a petition asking that F. L. Asbury of Habersham county be appointed guano inspector. Mr. Asbury used to go to school here and all of our citizens would be glad to see him holding this position.

There are two splendid mineral springs in reach of all who desire the water in Dahlonega. One just beyond the corporate limits known as the Cook Spring and another just a short distance across the hill from the school house on Henry Underwood's property.

Rev. D. W. Caldwell passed through Dahlonega last Wednesday on his way home with his daughter from Gilmer, Mrs. Bramlett, whose husband was recently sent to the penitentiary 20 years for killing Bishop in that county not long since.

Upon our table we find a nice little paper called the Gainesville Messenger Boy edited by little Harvey Craig, the ten-year-old son of editor Craig of the Eagle. It is small but contains more interesting news than some of the largest weeklies published in Georgia by men that we could mention.

Prof. J. S. Stewart of Dahlonega will attend the Southern Educational Association at Chattanooga and deliver an address on the 4th of July. Subject: Rural school libraries. The professor is taking a big interest in this matter and goes wherever he can put in a good word for a rural school library.

What do you think is going to happen? Mr. B. R. Meaders dreamed Monday night that he heard ye editor read a text and preach a right interesting sermon. Things must certainly be going to change here and all the editors do better. Billy Signal is on the stool of repentance whose conscience has told him that he has been charging twice as much for his paper than it is worth and now promises to reduce the price to 50 cents beginning with the new year.

If the iron mines near Dahlonega now being opened up, prove to be as large as they look to be now, they will be of great benefit to this section. Hundreds of hands are required to operate iron mines and you will always find plenty of money and prosperous times wherever they are operated. These mines would have been opened up long ago had we been supplied with railroad facilities. Now its owners know the prospects of a road to this place are good and are seeing what there is in their property.

Some of the shade trees here are dying on account of the dry weather.

The drouth of several weeks has caused a number of wells to go dry in Dahlonega.

Mrs. J. S. Stewart and family leaves next week to spend some time at Marietta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Huff left last Wednesday on a fishing tour across the Blue Ridge.

Deputy Collector Crockett made Dahlonega a flying visit this week on moonshine business.

Prof. Colyin and Mr. Hubbard left to-day. Mrs. Hubbard will join her husband later on.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt, two summer visitors from Atlanta, will be at the Hutchins House to-day.

There is a good crop of blackberries and ye editor is delighted at the thought of feasting on pies. "Shotgun" Walker was bound over by Com. Baker Wednesday night charged with running a portable barroom.

Dahlonega is certain to have a railroad. Then she will be one of the liveliest and best places in Georgia, and alive with summer visitors every season.

Ladies will have to be very careful about their tooth brushes. We notice where two women were badly poisoned in Banks county, one of them dying, from chewing the sticks where the locusts had buried their eggs.

Dahlonega has been getting some far off customers recently. Last Friday a drummer bought some honey to carry to his home in Atlanta, and another party from Lula carried to his place of abode a coop of chickens.

Roy A. B. Merk, who has been at work on the Lumpkin mission, we believe they call it, has resigned to take charge of the Methodist church down near Gainesville. Rev. Mr. White, of Franklin county, takes his place here.

Arch top mirrors 15 to 55, worth one-third more. Summer lap robes 35c. to $1.00; Dover 25c. egg beater 9c; imitation President suspenders 18c; nice umbrellas 34 to 35c; brown dress linen 14c; hem stitched one piece shirts 67c.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

At the July term of Ordinary's court all guardians, executors, and administrators in the county are required by law to make returns and true accounts of receipts and expenditures concerning the property which these guardians, administrators or executors hold in trust.

Out in the country recently while a lady was absent from home attending a funeral her husband invited a friend in when they both got drunk and had a big time. They had the doors closed but a party peeped in and espied one killing a chicken and the other making up dough.

Since Kirk Henson's wife left him in this county he has been in very bad humor, wanting to fight. So last Sunday he went up into White county and got knocked in the head with a rock by Cole Griffin. Then Kirk arose and departed for home tolerably fast when both the Griffins got after him. So it is said.

We are glad to state that Hon. H. P. Bell who was thrown from his buggy and bruised very badly while returning home from the commencement here, is improving. The horse ran more than two miles after the Colonel was thrown out and finally became entangled in the lines and stopped, when Mrs. Bell got out unhurt.

Uncle Martin Edmonson, residing near Auraria, who is 82 years of age, still works in the mines when not engaged in his little crop, assisted by his wife whose age is about 60. Not long since they made 60 pennyweight from two pits. The old man draws a $80 pension from the state and this together with what they make in the mines keeps them in very good circumstances.

Bacon has gotten to be a scarce article in Dahlonega. Let more of it be raised in this country and then when the price reaches 14 and 15 cents it won't trouble so many people.

J. M. Forest requests us to return his thanks to the good people of Dahlonega especially Marshal Harbison and Mrs. Campbell, who so kindly assisted him during the sickness of his family.

The patrons of Upper Cano Creek and Glenn schools in this county availed themselves of the opportunity offered by the rural school library committee and secured a library for each school.

R. A. Spencer writing from Eastland county, Texas, says if the young men of this section want a home in West Texas now is the time to buy. There are thousands of acres of school land to be bought at a low rate and forty years to pay for it. He also states that cotton is looking fine in that section and cattle in good shape with a good prospect of a big fruit crop.

Not many days ago a certain divine in the upper part of this county got drunk and he and his wife had a lively time for awhile. During the time he turned over the table and broke every dish on it except three and threw the coffee pot out into the yard and jumped on it with both feet and mashed it flat. Then he crept up into the loft and went to sleep. He ought to have remained there for he was nearer heaven then than he will ever be again unless he climbs a tree.

The posts will soon be put up and the wire stretched from the Chestate dam and Dahlonega on the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railroad and sufficient power converted to the Crown Mountain plant to run it till it is needed for the railroad. Then by that time the Gorge plant will be ready, work on which is expected to begin shortly. The water wheel for the railroad plant on the Chestate has already reached Gainesville and it is hoped by the middle of August to have everything up and in running order.

Last Friday Marshal Harbison went down to J. M. Forests and found his family all sick and in needy circumstances. They were down with the mumps and no one able to do anything. Besides Forests own family was his daughter Mrs. Little, whose husband is now serving out a sentence in the chain gang for deserting her with two children, and they were sick and had nothing to eat, in fact there was not a single thing to eat in the house except one mess of meal. The marshal came back and stated the case to our citizens who soon made up a purse of money sufficient to secure rations enough to do the family several days and delivered it, thus bringing joy and happiness to a home where but a few hours before starvation stared them in the face.

Developments in the Electric lines this week indicate satisfactory progress. Engineer Carlisle has received bills for the great water wheels to be set at New Bridge and for 2,000 incandescent lights for use in the city. The lights and wheels are in the depot, and other supplies and machinery are in transit. Rails and wire for the car and light line will be on the ground in good time. In three weeks more the dam at the Chestate will be completed, when the force of hands there employed will be transferred to the Dunlap Shoals, on the Chattahoochee, and this power will be then rapidly developed. A small force has been at work on the Dunlap Shoals for some weeks and considerable excavation has been made on both sides of the river.

Next week a force of hands equal to the city street force will with the city hands begin the grading of Green street. Washington and Spring streets will need very little additional work. Work will be going forward to get ready for immediate work as soon as the dynamo can be got and put in. The dynamo and rails will be here in August.—Eagle.
